TURNEY WANTS SINCERE JUDGES

Determined War on Crime and Its Allies Sought

Chief of Municipal Bench in Appeal to Citizens

Great Responsibility Rests With Jurists There

BY RAYMOND I. TURNEY
Presiding Judge of Municipal Court

RAYMOND I. TURNEY

The people in voting at the primary election next Tuesday will make decisions of vital importance when they select judges to represent them on the Municipal Court bench.

It is essential to the safety and well-being of every citizen of Los Angeles, rich and poor, that this court have a bench of courageous and intelligent men, sincerely devoted to the public welfare.

The Municipal Court during the year 1928 received for filing 55,549 civil cases and 316,-[illegible] criminal cases; the receipts were nearly $2,000,000.

IMPORTANT TASK

This court is of more importance to the body of the people than is the Superior Court. When the average citizen is involved in a legal case he goes into the Municipal Court; from this court he draws a picture of American justice.

The American people to a considerable degree have lost confidence in the courts. This is a fact, and it might as well be bluntly stated.

The burden of restoring this confidence falls largely on the shoulders of the judges.

The common man and more important still, the under dog, the man without money, friends or influence, must stand on the same footing in the courts as the rich and the great.

REAL MEN NEEDED

It is not a crime for a man to be unable to get work and an honest man without a job must be given his constitutional rights and not treated like one of a drove of cattle.

Organized crime and commercialized vice must not defy society. When those who participate therein appear in court they must feel the lash of justice.

The license system, the imposing of nominal fines on the profiteers of vice and crime cannot be tolerated. These men fear only jail sentences. They must receive them.

Justice must not be bought and sold. "Fixers" belong in the penitentiary.

Crooked professional bail bondsmen and shyster attorneys must not pollute the court. They are fit company for "fixers."

There are grave problems that must be coped with in the Municipal Court. It is a job that calls for men.

ALBERT WADEL

He arrived yesterday on the liner Guatemala from Salvador and is bound for San Francisco to ascertain how his son and daughter are progressing in American schools.

Born in French Alsace, later turned German, he went to New York and became an American citizen. But he has lived thirty years in Salvador. Yet he insists he is not a subject of Salvador. His case awaits his arrival at San Francisco.

Fortune is said to have smiled on him in Salvador, where he is known as a wealthy landlord.

TAX LIENS NAME PASADENAN

The income tax liens were filed in United States District Court yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Welch against Frank G. Hogan, 40 South Oak Knoll avenue, Pasadena. The three liens, for 1924, 1925, 1926, totaled $14,639.51 for additional taxes.

HUNDREDS WILL BE AT VOTE RALLY

Candidates and Aides to Meet at Luncheon Monday for Ballot Boosting

Political differences will be shelved and campaign rivals and their staffs, numbering more than 300, will rub elbows at the rally luncheon to be given by the Register and Vote League Monday noon at the Windsor Tea Rooms.

Candidates for Mayor and other important city offices will be introduced, while Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, as the only speaker, will issue the league's appeal for a larger vote at the primary on Tuesday and explain the organization's movement to keep the city vote at its maximum strength.

In addition to the campaign staffs representatives of various civic, fraternal and service clubs, which comprise the league, have been invited. Tickets are obtainable at the headquarters in the Western Mutual Life Building, or reservations may be made by calling TUcker 9707.

Cut Reported of Child Life Toll in Traffic

It was brought out yesterday morning at the Breakfast Club that, in spite of the automobile-accident death-toll increase in Southern California, the number of child fatalities is decreasing. While for the entire nation more than 23.4 per cent of all fatalities are children under 15 years of age, in Southern California only 14.1 per cent of those killed in auto accidents are children. This was set forth by Carl O. McStay, field secretary of the Automobile Club of Southern California, on a talk commending the work of Ad Carter, cartoonist, who originated the "Just Kids Safety Club." Both Mr. McStay and Fred W. Gollum, vice-president of the Police Commission, urged adults also to "take the pledge."

Judge George Bartlett, Reno's "alimony judge;" Lieut. Harold Bromley, aviator, and the Vancouver Lions, championship Canadian ice-hockey team, were among the guests.

STUDENTS TO MASK

Students of the school of architecture at University of Southern California will hold their annual Mardi Gras masked ball Saturday evening. Prizes will be awarded wearers of the most beautiful, humorous and clever costumes, and the Morehead cash prize will be awarded the winner of a recent sketching contest. Virginia Arnold and Mark Hawker are in charge.

Bovard Auditorium to House Enthusiasts Tomorrow

Winner of Hawaiian Honor to Arrive Saturday

Rally delegations from the six high schools whose victorious orators will compete at Bovard Auditorium tomorrow night for the California championship and the honor of representing this State in the Pacific Coast grand finals May 10 were organized yesterday. Long Beach Polytechnic expects to attend 300 strong with their major yell leader to boost for Miss Marjorie Forsyth.

Teachers of all English classes of the Los Angeles High School today will compile an estimate of the number of students who will rally around the standard of that institution for Leonard Horvitz. An assembly at Warren G. Harding High School, Sawtelle, was addressed yesterday morning on the subject of "Team Work and Patriotism." There can be no doubt in the mind of "Bill" McCoy that his fellow-students will be at Bovard, heart-set for his victory.

SEATS UNRESERVED

While seats are not to be reserved at the auditorium tomorrow night, the standards of the six schools will be placed in six sections of the main floor and students will assemble at their respective standards. Early attendance is urged, as the informal rallies will be held prior to the regular program, when dignity and silence will prevail. The Los Angeles High School Band, under the leadership of Thomas Toolan, will furnish music.

Pasadena High School, with Ted Hatlen and a delegation of 200 students; Loyola High School, boosting for Carl Von Der Ahe, and Kern County High School, bringing William P. Broderick, will be the other standard bearers.

The many inquiries received at oratorical contest headquarters at The Times yesterday indicate that the general public is taking a greater interest in the event than ever before. Bovard Auditorium will seat 2000 persons, and it is anticipated that it will be well filled but not overcrowded.

HAWAIIAN WINNER

Miss Adeline Reis, the idol of the Territory of Hawaii, who will represent the islands in the Pacific Coast finals at Shrine Civic Auditorium, the 10th inst., will arrive here Saturday. She is Portuguese by birth, vibrant with personality and speaks with a winning conviction.

Among excerpts from her oration are the following: "We have no king but justice; we bow to no crown but liberty."

"Higher than Congress; higher than the President of the United States, higher even than the Supreme Court of the United States, is the tribunal of public opinion."

CITIZEN'S DUTIES

The topic of her oration is "The Citizen—His Privileges and Duties."

Details of the Hawaiian contest arrived by mail yesterday. Gov. Farrington presided as honorary chairman. The setting was dramatic and the interest intense, although this was the first time that Hawaii has participated in the contest. By 9 p.m. more than 1000 people were packed outside the auditorium and the fire marshal halted the contest until the crowd could be backed away from the building and the aisles inside cleared.

The decision of the judges was delayed for a time, owing to the fact that Miss Reis and Miss Peterson each scored nine points under the low-point system, but as the former had three first-place awards from the judges while Miss Peterson had but two, Miss Reis was pronounced winner.

MISS REIS OVERCOME

When Gov. Farrington pinned the gold medal on Miss Reis hundreds of students and admirers rushed to the stage. When she received the felicitations of the Governor, the judges, educators, legislators and last, but not least, the kiss bestowed by her mother, she brushed tears from her eyes and said that it was the happiest moment of her life.

The cosmopolitanism of the Hawaiian contest is indicated in the names of the other finalists, who

POWER BOND VOTE IN JUNE

Water and Electric Construction Program for City Will Cost $50,000,000

The Municipal Department of Water and Power informally presented to the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday plans for a construction program for the next three years which will entail the expenditure of approximately $50,000,000, the major part of which will have to be obtained by the flotation of bonds.

Although there has been no previous announcement concerning the comprehensive nature of the contemplated construction program, it is the plan of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners to attempt to obtain the authorization of the voters of the city for the issuance of the bonds at the June 4 election, according to John R. Richards, president of the board.

NO ESTIMATE YET

No estimate could be obtained yesterday from Mr. Richards of the amounts of the proposed bond issues, although he said that the program of building is based upon a careful survey and detailed study that has been carried forward for the last six months by General Manager Van Norman, Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood and Chief Water Works Engineer Weymouth.

All he could say now of the financial aspects of the program, he asserted, is that much of the cost will be defrayed from the annual revenues of the department, and that the bonds for the water system and the power system will of necessity be segregated as separate propositions on the ballot.

ITEMS CONSIDERED

Within the next few days the plans for the $50,000,000 program will be formally submitted to the City Council and to the water and power committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The project consists of the following items:

Purchase of large additional water-bearing land tracts in the Owens River Valley.

Construction of additional reservoir storage capacity near Los Angeles sufficient to store 12,000,000,000 gallons of water for domestic use.

Installation of 150 miles of thirty-six-inch and twenty-four-inch water trunk lines to deliver large quan-

YEAR'S HOTTEST DAY ARRIVES

May Ushered in by Old Man Weather With 89 Deg. of Heat Sans Humidity

May Day brought 1929's warmest day to Los Angeles. The United States Weather Bureau thermometer recorded 89 degs. at about 1 p.m. The maximum was 18 above the normal for May. It was 5 deg. warmer than the previous 1929 maximum of 85 reached April 15. The air's water content was exceptionally low, the humidity reading showing but 20 per cent.

Today also is expected to be warm.

Library Branch Site Bought and Plans Ordered

A site for the John Muir Branch Library has been purchased, it was announced yesterday by Orra E. The John Muir Branch now is located in rented storerooms at 1005 West Fifty-ninth street.

Felipe de Neve Branch, the forty-eighth in the system, located in Lafayette Park, will be practically completed by the end of the month. Sidney Lanier Branch in North Hollywood Park probably will open some time in June.

Plans are being drawn for the Venice Library at California and Electric avenues.

DOLLING UP STREETS VOTED

Council Appropriates $30,000 for Decorations When Elks and Shriners Invade City

Thirty thousand dollars was voted by the City Council yesterday for decorating the streets during the forthcoming conventions of the Shrine and the Elks, $15,000 to be expended for each convention. The Shrine convention will take place the first week of June, and that of the Elks the second week of July.

The Council took no action yesterday on a report of its Finance Committee concerning steps which it is understood that both fraternal orders wish the city to take to assure the successful conduct of their conventions. Two of the recommendations made by the Finance Committee will have to be considered by other committees before the Council will pass on them.

They are, first, that on the first two days of each convention week parking be prohibited on Fifth street between Central and Grand avenues, and, second, that no permits be issued for the erection of grand stands along the line of march of the convention parades, that is, along Figueroa street from Adams street south of Exposition Boulevard.

The prohibition against parking on Fifth street, which would be to facilitate the transportation of convention visitors from the railroad station to their hotels, will be considered by the Council's Traffic and Street Lighting Committee. The ban on grand stands will be taken up by the Building and Safety Committee.

The third recommendation of the Finance Committee is that no licenses be issued to peddle novelties, souvenirs, etc., which purport to be official without the approval in writing of the executive committees of the conventions that the articles are official. This matter lies within the jurisdiction of this committee, but action on it was

UNTERMYER AID SOUGHT BY COUNCIL

Appropriation of $25,000 Voted to Hire Attorney in Street-Car Fare Battle

After a spirited discussion the City Council voted yesterday to appropriate $25,000 to retain Samuel Untermyer, noted New York attorney, to represent this city before the United States Supreme Court in the yellow-car line fare increase case. The appropriation must be approved by the Mayor before the necessary contract can be entered into with Mr. Mr. Untermyer.

SAMUEL UNTERMYER.

The vote on the appropriation was 8 to 5, the favorable votes being cast by Councilmen Colden, Foster, Hall, Ingram, Jacobson, Lewis, Randall and Sanborn, and those opposed being Councilmen Alber, Davis, McAllister, Martin and Webster. Councilman Hall led the fight for hiring the attorney and Councilmen Davis and Alber made the chief arguments in opposition, although nearly every member of the Council present expressed himself on the subject before the vote was taken.

The matter came up in the form of a report of the Finance Committee, which recommended that the appropriation be made, pointing out that if the city loses the case the users of the yellow street-car lines will have to pay from $4,000,000 to $6,000,000 yearly in increased fares. After this report was read the letter from Mr. Untermyer to City Attorney Stephens, in which he fixed his fee at $25,000, also was read.

The Councilmen opposed to retaining Untermyer called attention to his admission in his letter of a considerable doubt as to the chances of the city and the State Railroad Commission to upset the decision of the Federal Statutory Court, under which the car company now is collecting an increased fare. They argued that the appropriation of $25,000 to contest a case in which the chances of success are vague would be a wasteful expenditure.

Councilman Davis also made a plea that the Council should not tie the hands of the incoming City Attorney by taking this case from his hands before he even comes into office. He reminded the Council, also, that the present City Attorney has done a great deal of work on the case, which Mr. Untermyer himself has characterized as exceptionally able.

M'PHERSON CASE ENDED BY FITTS

Famous Kidnaping Mystery Shelved as Unsolved

Prosecutor Finds No Cause to Reopen Charges

Hardy Acquittal and Cost Determines Action

Finis was written to the Aimee Semple McPherson case yesterday when Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced that the evangelist's "kidnaping" story will receive no further attention from the District Attorney's office.

The prosecutor's announcement comes as an aftermath to the recent impeachment trial of Superior Judge Hardy, in which the jurist was acquitted of the charge that he unethically accepted a $2500 "love offering" from the evangelist during the investigation of her story of having been carried into the Mexican desert by "Steve and Rose."

"I have been asked as to whether or not I intend to reopen the McPherson case, dismissed by the court some two and one-half years ago," Fitts's official statement begins.

WILL NOT REOPEN

"I have carefully read the evidence presented to the Senate of California at the recent trial of Judge Hardy.

"I emphatically do not intend to reopen the case unless additional evidence of a competent legal nature is presented to this office. The action of the Senate of California showed clearly its disbelief of the same evidence on which this office would have to rely in opening the former case.

"If the public feels like I do about this case they are sick and disgusted with it and of its constant recurrence.

"This office is burdened with the prosecution of murders, robberies, burglaries and kindred crime, and with the effort to protect life and property of Los Angeles county's citizens. The McPherson case originally cost many thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money and I am informed in Sacramento that the recent hearing cost them an additional sum of approximately $50,000.

POINTS TO COST

"To reopen this case in this county would cost the taxpayers of Los Angeles county, conservatively, from $35,000 to $40,000., I cannot, in good conscience, on the evidence available and which would be admissible under the rules of law in court, expend this sum of money in what I feel would be a futile prosecution," the prosecutor's statement concludes.

Although the District Attorney somewhat qualified his out-and-out closing of the case by saying that additional evidence must be produced to prosecute the evangelist, officials in general pointed out that this is unlikely. By the statute of limitations the case automatically becomes outlawed next August.

From June 23, 1926, when the public was notified by extras that the evangelist had reappeared at Agua Prieta, (Son.) after having supposedly disappeared in the waters of the Pacific Ocean at Ocean Park the previous May 18, and told a weird and fantastic kidnaping story, Mrs. McPherson has been almost ceaselessly in the limelight.

OVER BURNING SANDS

Despite discrepancies, investigating officials attempted to point out in her story, she clung to her account of her asserted twenty-mile trek over the burning sands of Northern Sonora—without water—after her escape from the shack where she said "Steve and Rose" had relaxed their vigil long enough one morning to give her an opportunity to escape.

Then came the grand jury inquiry, after which that body refused to indict and the McPherson case apparently passed into history.

But, Angelus Temple, and Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, her mother in particular, were not satisfied. Complete vindication was demanded. Kenneth G. Ormiston, with whom the evangelist was accused of having eloped, later spending ten days in the famous Carmel love cottage, came forward with an affidavit that it was "Miss X" who was his companion.

Enter "Miss X's" sister, or so she

PANTAGES DEAL TIED UP

Radio-Keith-Orpheum Must Raise Ante to Get Chain of Theaters, Magnate Asserts

Difference of opinion over certain property valuations and parts of the articles in the proposed $14,000,000 merger of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum theatrical enterprises and Alex Pantages theater interests has resulted in a deadlock of negotiations now under way, Mr. Pantages announced yesterday.

Although the thirty-day option on fifteen Pantages theaters and theatrical realty holdings owned by the Pacific Coast magnate expired last Saturday, both organizations still are attempting to iron out their differences, Mr. Pantages stated.

HOPE STILL FELT

"We are in a position now where it will be impossible to complete the deal unless a change in the attitude of Orpheum officials takes place," Mr. Pantages said. "Their option has expired and we will not renew it."

At the same time the theater owner stated that he still expects the deal to be consummated, despite his ultimatum that the Orpheum officials will have to meet terms he has laid down for the consolidation of the two amusement enterprises.

For several weeks both organizations have been conducting a research and audit of Pantages's holdings in an effort to arrive at an equitable basis for the consolidation.

Whether Pantages's valuation of his theatrical houses or of his realty holdings is too high to meet approval of the R.-K.-O. interests, the local man refused to state.

SECRECY AT FIRST

When the option on Pantages's interests first was taken, the utmost secrecy surrounded the proposed deal. Despite persistent rumors that it was pending, denials vociferously were issued from both both sides. Later, after Pantages admitted the proposed merger, Hiram Brown of New York, president of the theatrical side of the R.-K.-O. combine, also acknowledged that it was under way.

If, as Pantages apparently believes, the deal yet may be consummated, it will be one of the largest theatrical mergers in the history of vaudeville, and will place the Orpheum very nearly alone in the vaudeville field.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

SYMBOLISM is sometimes too complex for my understanding.

I am sure that there is a deep psychic significance to the fact that straw hats are ushered in by a young lady with bare legs kneeling before our very obviously embarrassed Mayor, but I haven't been able to figure it out.

Orange week, big boy week, eat-more-lettuce week, Mother's Day, prune week, pay-your-taxes-early, Friday white sales, see America first, Near East Relief and justice for bulldogged steers all seems to be illustrated in the newspapers by pictures of charming young ladies with bare legs.

The only week to which these pictures would seem to be entirely appropriate is eat-more-fish week.

THE DAILY DOZEN

A professor in the teachers' college in New York is in a state of frenzied excitement over the practice of doing your daily dozen. He has a fixed conviction that it is deleterious to the soul or the body or the liver, or something.

My objection to these morning exercises is that they are an intolerable bore. I doubt the philosophy of starting your day bored to tears.

HA! HA!—RATS!

In some cases there may be an intellectual stimulus.

Were I a member of the class of this calisthenics professor who ends up each radio lesson with: "Now let us all give a hearty laugh—ha! ha! ha!"—there would be a stimulus.

I should work furiously at the task of making myself strong enough to strangle him.

TOO SOFT-HEARTED

In the herd of rebel generals stampeding for the American side of the line there is one warrior who should never have been allowed to seek this shelter.

He is one of the American aviators who took service in an army banned by the State Department. Furthermore, there is very good reason to believe that he dropped bombs on the soil of his own country with deliberate intent.

HIRED MURDERERS

The only possible excuse or justification for killing people in war is that you are fighting in defense of your own country. These hired murderers cheerfully take service with whichever side will pay the most. When these men entered the service of the Mexican rebels they were as much in rebellion against the United States as against Mexico. Instead of being protected, they should be hanged.

THE BASQUES

I am inconsolable — having missed the dinner of the California pioneers at the Women's Athletic Club. Especially that I had to miss the talk about the old Basque families of California. We often forget them.

The Basques are a proud and wonderful people. Admittedly an ethnological mystery, they seem to have been the backwash of one of the old Gothic invasions of Europe.

In California they were nearly always sheepherders. I have yet to hear of a Basque family that did not prosper. We owe much to their sturdy strength of character, their steadfast purpose, and their tireless industry. Incidentally, I never knew a Basque who wouldn't fight a buzz saw or an elephant.

Shuler's Move to Have Libel Case Thrown Out of Court Defeated

JURY WILL NOT BE LOCKED UP

D'Orr's Long Argument on Privilege Futile

Judge Rules Defamation Principal Question

Motion to Silence Preacher's Radio Denied

Defense of Rev. Bob Shuler, charged with criminally libeling the Knights of Columbus, suffered a sharp setback in Municipal Judge Pope's court yesterday when the court denied a motion, argued for nearly a day, that would have thrown the case out of court without the jury hearing any of the evidence.

At the same time the minister was given some satisfaction when Judge Pope also denied a motion, made by Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday, asking that the jury either be locked up during the period of the trial or that Shuler be stopped from discussing the case over his radio station.

Argument that the case be thrown out of court on the ground that the complaint did not charge a public offense had been going on since the jury was sworn in late Tuesday night and before any testimony had been taken.

D'ORR IN LONG PLEA

Defense Attorney Paul D'Orr made a spirited and lengthy argument in support of his motion, outlining practically all of the evidence and issues in the case. In brief, he contended that Shuler, when he printed the false oath of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus in a pamphlet was making an attack on Al Smith, a political candidate at the time, an indirect attack on the Catholic Church, and that there was no intendment of imputing the false oath to the Catholic fraternal organization.

The lawyer argued, therefore, that the purpose and effect of the pamphlet was directed at organizations or individuals not complainants in the case at bar, and against whom in any instance, the laws of libel privilege sharp attacks.

JUDGE GIVES RULING

Special Prosecutor David Cannon answered Attorney D'Orr's arguments, his words holding the crowded courtroom silent for the better part of an hour. Judge Pope ruled without hesitation, saying, in part:

"I think, gentlemen . . . these is only one point before the court, and that is simply this—whether the matter set up in the complaint is capable of a defamatory interpretation. Everything else that has been said is on the question of privilege.

"I don't think that anybody disagrees with Mr. D'Orr that when a person offers himself for public office he lays himself open to be questioned about every utterance that he has ever made in his entire lifetime, and every obligation that he has taken on the face of the earth, whether it be in the halls of a secret society or out on the public street.

"Now, however, I do not believe that under the privilege, in a political campaign, a person who is opposing a candidate, and who is asking questions of or opposing a candidate can go afield and can refer to some organization or some individual, whether he said, 'I believe it is true,' or 'I do not believe it is true,' can by innuendo or inference or in any other way ascribe to that third party some defamatory matter."

After further discussing the legal points involved the court declared further: ". . . and so I think that the entire issue should go before the jury on these two questions; first, whether the true interpretation of Dr. Shuler's book is defamatory and whether or not the manner in which it is said or printed brings it within any of the established privileges under the law."

JURY TO KEEP LIBERTY

As Judge Pope instructed the bailiff to bring the jury—the panel had been excused during the arguments—back to the courtroom, Hornaday made his motion that the jury be locked up or Shuler be instructed to desist from discussing the case over the radio. The Deputy City Prosecutor made it plain that he thought some of the jurors might be intimidated by what was broadcast, and asserted that in the interests of a fair trial the action should be taken.

Defense Attorney D'Orr was on his feet immediately objecting to such a move, which he did not think necessary. Special Prosecutor Cannon intimated that he had no desire to limit Shuler's conversational activities.

Motioning the attorneys to their seats, Judge Pope declared that he had no desire to lock up the jury and no power to dictate what Shuler shall say over his radio. He declared, moreover, that he welcomed any discussion of the case, public or otherwise, and for these reasons would deny Hornaday's motion.

ASSERTED SHEIK UNDER ARREST

Police Find Gun and Knife in His Room After Girl's Mother Complains

Louis Guzman, 18 years of age, a student at the Part-Time High School, living at 2221 South Wall street, was arrested yesterday on charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested on complaint of Mrs. B. R. Basquez of 735 East Eighteenth street, who said Guzman systematically annoyed her daughter, Catina, 18, a pupil at Polytechnic High School. She charged that when Basquez warned off Guzman, the latter threatened to cut the girl's father down to his size. Policemen Acker and Hamlin of the Georgia-street station searched Guzman's room and reported that they found a revolver and a stiletto.

LOEB TELLS HIS SIDE OF JULIAN ROW

Witness Asserts Attack Cost Loss of Eye and Illness for Year

Giving a detailed description of the asserted assault on him by H. J. Kimmerle, in the offices of the Julian stockholders' committee two years ago, Arthur M. Loeb resumed his testimony for the State yesterday in Judge Aggeler's court, where Kimmerle and De Kalb Spurlin are on trial on charges of conspiracy.

After telling of incidents that led up to the asserted attack, Loeb, who is said to have lost an eye in the affair, declared Kimmerle seized him and pushed him over a railing in the office. While Kimmerle held him with one hand, the witness continued, his asserted assailant struck him in the eye with the other.

Loeb declared the blow completely destroyed one of his eyes and caused him to be ill for more than a year following the incident.

Louis Horchitz, said to have been present in the offices at the time, was on the stand at adjournment. There will be no hearing of the case today.

It is expected the State will conclude its case Friday. Dep. Dist.-Atty. McKay is prosecuting.

AVOCADO SHOW READY TO OPEN

Exhibit This Year Will Set Records

Grace McGee of Whittier

With the last spike driven, the final yard of canvas spread, and booths prepared to receive their valuable displays, all is in readiness for the opening of the Sixth Annual California Avocado Show at Whittier the 6th to 12th inst., inclusive.

The show this year will have the distinction of being opened by Gov. Young, arrangements having been completed when two avocado ambassadors, M. C. Lautrup, general chairman of the show committee, and E. C. Dutton, president of the California Avocado Association and field manager for the Calavo Growers, flew to Sacramento for a personal interview with the chief executive. KMTR will broadcast the Governor's address Monday the 6th inst. at 9 p.m.

All former shows, according to advance information, will be eclipsed by the present one, in point of size, quantity of fruit and general attractiveness. The yield this year is about six times that of last season, and the fruit is of high quality.

Twenty-three acres on Whittier Boulevard, just outside the city limits between Whittier and Pico have been obtained for the show.

Every evening an entertainment will be offered under the auspices of Matthews and Gamble.

tities to various consuming centers in the city.

Erection of six new electric distributing stations.

Construction of two new hydro-electric generating plants in the Owens River Valley.

Construction of 200 miles of high-voltage transmission lines to bring Owens River Valley hydro-electricity to Los Angeles.

Installation of 1100 miles of power and light distributing lines and underground cables.

GROWTH DEMANDS

The program is designed to meet the water and power needs of the growing city pending the making available of the Colorado River resources, according to Commissioner Richards.

"Colorado River water and power," he said, "is to be brought to Los Angeles to meet the future needs of the city. But these resources cannot be made available to Los Angeles under ten or twelve years. In the meantime, Los Angeles continues to grow—and grow rapidly. Certainly, no one wants to have Los Angeles hold up its growth until Colorado River water has been brought in.

DEPARTMENT PAYS

"A part of this great program will be financed directly from annual revenues. The balance should be financed by water and power bonds. These bonds, like all other general water and power bonds, will be repaid, with interest, from earnings of the department. They will not cost the taxpayers one cent.

"The second million population for Los Angeles is now well on its way. We must prepare for these coming thousands and hundreds of thousands.

"The Los Angeles Department of Water and Power is the largest municipal utility of its kind in the entire world. It is one of the very largest business enterprises in the Southwest.

"The city's municipal water and electric systems now represent assets totaling approximately $200,000,000. The gross revenues of these systems now amount to more than $25,000,000 annually. And every day the business of these two great systems is increasing. We must greatly enlarge the city's water and power facilities and the city's water resources to meet this increasing demand for service."

REALTY MEN TO TOUR IN EAST AS GUESTS

Los Angeles and Southern California real-estate men attending the national convention at Boston next month will be the guests of George Hannauer, president of the Boston-Maine Railway, according to Cecil B. Barker, general manager of C. C. C. Tatum Realtors. The California men will tour the New England States in Hannauer's private train on a sightseeing trip. The invitation followed a banquet given the eastern railway executive yesterday by C. C. C. Tatum. Hannaeur, who came to Los Angeles to study transportation facilities, was amazed at the city's phenomenal growth.

JURY CONVICTS BOY KIDNAPER

Palmer Found Guilty of Stealing Grant Youth

Verdict Reached Within Fifteen Minutes

Prisoner Now on Trial on Statutory Charge

Henry Palmer, 44-year-old painter, was found guilty yesterday in Judge Wilson's court of a charge of child stealing preferred against him in connection with the disappearance last December of Richard Grant, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Grant of San Fernando Road.

It took the jury of twelve men only fifteen minutes to reach a verdict carrying with it imprisonment of from one to twenty years for Palmer. Judge Wilson fixed next Monday as the day for pronouncing sentence.

Palmer is said to have taken the boy from his home December 22, last, under the pretext that he wanted him to take a music lesson in Long Beach. Nothing more was heard of the Grant boy until last February when he and Palmer were found in Roswell, N. M., by the authorities, who had instituted a search for the pair throughout the western part of the country.

Immediately following his conviction on the child-stealing charge, Palmer was placed on trial before another jury of twelve men on a complaint accusing him of five statutory offenses against the Grant boy, Morris Chapman and Howard Allred.

The case is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Scheinman, while Palmer is being defended by Deputy Public Defender Hill. Trial will be resumed today.

NEW FIRST AID PLANS ADVANCED

Council Gets Ordinance to Put Physicians on Ambulance Runs

An ordinance having for its object more skillful treatment of persons injured in traffic or other accidents, was sent to the City Council yesterday by the Police Commission for action.

The plan is to withdraw from the Receiving Hospital ambulance service 102 police officers for regular police duties and to replace them with expert drivers and young physicians who can give first-aid at the scene of any accident, instead of waiting until the patient is taken to the Receiving Hospital for first aid as at present.

The plan is backed by Receiving Hospital Surgeon Dodge on the ground that quick treatment on the spot may be the means of saving many lives and others from being maimed for life.

The measure also provides for a traffic investigation bureau, which will investigate traffic accidents and make arrests.

For this service the Council is requested to provide for seventy additional officers on the ground that the salary fund is sufficient to pay them until July 1 and provision can then be made for them in next year's budget.

IMPROVEMENT HEARING SET

Ordinances of intention were adopted by the City Council yesterday for the improvement of Indiana avenue between Lincoln Boulevard and Seventh avenue and of the streets in the Pickford-street and Verdun-avenue Improvement District. June 6 was set as the date for hearing protests against both of them.

WIDOW SPURNS HOWARD'S LOVE

Mrs. Cooley Will Not Aid Husband's Slayer

Fitts and Kelley Continue Their Controversy

Victim's Son Wants Bank to Administer Estate

Mrs. Pearl Cooley, widow of Victor A. Cooley who was slain by J. Howard in a midnight hammer attack two weeks ago, will in no way aid the man now facing a fight for his life despite Howard's protestations of love for her.

At a conference yesterday between Michael F. Shannon, representing Mrs. Cooley, and Dan J. Heyfron, attorney for Howard, Shannon told Heyfron his client is not interested in Howard and refused to discuss his case.

Heyfron's visit to Shannon, the former said, was the result of a request made by Howard in the Pasadena Jail, where he is held pending his preliminary hearing tomorrow morning before Municipal Judge Gibbs of Pasadena.

ACCOUNTS TO BE CHECKED

"Howard also said the Cooleys owe him money. Mr. Shannon told me that he will check over the Cooley accounts and if this is found to be true Howard will be paid," Heyfron said. Beyond that, he added, Shannon told him no further attention will be paid Howard.

The break between the District Attorney's office and Chief of Police Kelley of Pasadena yesterday brought further exchanges between the two officials.

Fitts pointedly replied to Kelley's letter in which the Pasadena official said that his investigation was hampered by an agreement between investigators for Fitts, and Mrs. Cooley's attorney,s whereby they can always be present when she is questioned.

"I will ask Mr. Pitts to assign two deputies who have no personal interest in Michael F. Shannon, Mrs. Cooley's attorney, to make an investigation into the motive which impelled Howard to kill Cooley," Chief Kelley's statement, issued late last night upon receipt of Fitts's letter, said.

"I think due to the fact that Mr. Fitts has been absent in Sacramento for several days he probably has been misinformed as to certain aspects of this case.

"I am not offended at his letter. Up to a certain point his office gave splendid co-operation. He has some high-class investigators," Kelley concluded.

HITS AT INVESTIGATOR

His reference to men "with no personal interest" in Attorney Shannon, resulted from charges made by Detective Lieutenants Thomas and Culver, of Pasadena, that Chief Investigator Wheeler of Fitts's office, refused to allow the Pasadena officials in his office while Mrs. Cooley was questioned. Her attorney, however, was present, Kelley said.

Kelley likewise denies the official's assertion that a man was sent at the request of Kelley's office to Carson City, Nev., to question Ralph Hanan, divorced husband of Mrs. Evelyn Merritt Hanan, whom Cooley proposed to wed.

"I was satisfied with the statement of the Carson City Chief of Police that Hanan knew nothing of the case. I also was certain Howard, who subsequently confessed after we arrested him when the District Attorney turned him loose, was the guilty person," the police head stated.

NO ATTORNEY PICKED

Howard will appear for his preliminary hearing represented by Attorney Heyfron, but no arrangements for legal representation for the self-confessed slayer after that have been made, Heyfron said.

Clyde W. Cooley, 19-year-old son of the slain man, yesterday filed an application to have a Pasadena bank appointed administrator of his father's $80,000 estate. This action follows the appointment of Mrs. Cooley as executrix of the estate, and the attorney for young Cooley, who is Nicholas W. Hacker, his guardian, stated that it is necessary that Mrs. Cooley be removed as executrix before the administrator is appointed.

FITTS'S LETTER

Mr. Fitts's letter to Kelley, written upon the District Attorney's return from Sacramento yesterday morning, reads:

My dear Mr. Kelley:

"Upon my return from Sacramento to this morning, I found your letter of April 30, 1929. My secretary informs me that this letter was delivered to the office at 11:40 a.m. of that date. I also note that apparently your letter was issued to the press prior to its delivery to me. The customary procedure of this office heretofore has been to use the United States mail for the delivery of official communications, but in view of the fact that you have chosen the press as your means of communication, I shall use the same course.

FAITH APPRECIATED

"I appreciate your assurances of faith in my honesty, ability and integrity, and your expression of willingness to co-operate with my office on all occasions in the enforcement of every law. These are as gratifying as it is regrettable that you complain of 'some things' that 'have arisen in the Cooley case that have made our men very bitter against your investigation department, the details of which can be furnished, if necessary.'

"A short time after the murder of Cooley, I became considerably disturbed over repeated reports made to this office, that by reason of the prominence of the people involved, there was a disposition on your part not to pursue the investigation to the fullest extent. I have always sought to co-operate with all agencies in enforcing the law. I, therefore, requested the chief of the bureau of investigation, Mr. Wheeler, to go directly to you and inform you that if there existed such a disposition on the part of your department, this office would take up the investigation and pursue it no matter where it led. It might be interesting to you to know that several members of your department have informed me since receiving the confession of Howard that had it not been for the pressure executed by this office, that the case would not be in its present status.

INTEGRITY ASSAILED

"I want to say to you in all candor that these facts would never have been made public had you not chosen to assail the integrity and motives of members of this office.

"This office is a prosecuting office, not a police department, nevertheless in its desire to help you I assigned the very best that I had in the bureau of investigation including a deputy district attorney. I sent, at your request, one of the operatives of this office to Nevada, although not legally required to do so, and financed that trip exclusively from funds of this office. At the request of the members of your department, I devoted all Friday afternoon to taking additional statements from Howard.

"On repeated occasions members of your department expressed their gratitude to me personally, for the help that the office had given them in this case. Night before last I called you by telephone from Sacramento and you informed me that you were deeply grateful for the help that the office has rendered. I asked you by long-distance telephone as to the status of the case, and if there was anything in the world that we could do to help you further in the matter. You again repeated that the office was co-operating in every possible manner and that you further stated to me that by reason of the importance and what it meant to you personally, that you would never forget the help this office extended to you when you needed it badly. I must confess that I am at a complete loss to understand your change of position.

"You now ask me for a legal opinion as to whether Mrs. Cooley can be questioned by you outside the presence of her attorney, and without her consent. I am somewhat surprised that a request of this kind comes from the chief of of a police department. I will, however, advise you as follows in reference thereto:

"(a) That as long as Mrs. Cooley is not in custody, it is a matter for her to determine whether she will talk with or without her attorney, excepting in the event legal process such as a subpoena is issued for her, in which event, when placed upon the stand she will be compelled to give any relevant and material evidence to the proceeding pending which may be required by the tribunal before which she appears.

VISITS ALLOWED

"(b) If she is taken into legal custody any attorney at law entitled to practice in the courts of record of California may, at her request, be permitted to visit her, and any officer having charge of her who wilfully refuses or neglects to allow such attorney to visit her would be guilty of a misdemeanor.

"I might say to you, that the policy of this office has been, and will be as long as I remain District Attorney, to permit persons charged with crime to have the benefit of the advice of counsel at every stage of the proceedings. We do not intend, in the enforcement of the law, to subject private citizens to unwarranted and unlawful examinations. It has been just such practice as this that has caused the Bar Association of California and the Legislature of the State to very seriously consider, in the protection of the Constitutional rights of private citizens, passing a measure that would very seriously handicap every law enforcing agency in the State in the apprehension and conviction of criminals.

INQUIRY MUST CONTINUE

"You state in your letter that if you are not permitted to question Mrs. Cooley outside the presence of her attorney that your investigation must cease. I regret very much that you feel this way with reference to this matter, and can only say that in the event you do not see fit to continue in the investigation in accordance with the law of California that this office will be compelled to continue such investigation so long as it is necessary to do so. I am compelled to state that I see no reason for officers of the law to proceed in any manner other than in the manner prescribed by law.

"Permit me to assure you of the same kind regards which you expressed for me in your letter, and with earnest assurances of co-operation in every possible manner in the enforcement of the law in Los Angeles county, I am as always,

"Yours most cordially,
"BURON FITTS,
"District Attorney."

DUTY SAID TO DEMAND THAT EVERYONE VOTE

BY MRS. JOSEPH W. HAMER
President, the Women's City Club

MRS. JOSEPH W. HAMER

Belief in our own form of government should actuate every citizen to register and vote. Our progress depends on the interest of even the humblest citizen in our land recognizing and performing his patriotic duty.

Our city government as well as State and national is what the people make it through the ballot box. Whenever a choice is to be made in officers or in public questions all those who can qualify are under solemn and binding obligations to register their decision. To fail in that is to be disloyal to our system of self-government. It is disloyalty to our community and to our city not to be sufficiently interested to make a study of civic affairs, and of the character of the men who we vote into office to guide the destiny of the city and to make of it either a city of which we are proud or a place of rampant lawlessness.

The ascendency of Los Angeles among the cities of the United States is largely gauged by the number of citizens who exercise the sacred right to wield the ballot on election day.

Loyalty to Los Angeles and California and devotion to the priceless guarantee of the Constitution of the United States for freedom and liberty under law imposes upon every citizen the distinct individual duty to vote in the primary, May 7.

Macy Street's Opening Urged as Vital Need

With the plea that traffic conditions urgently demand the extension of Macy street at a width of 100 feet from North Main street to North Spring street, Councilman Sanborn presented a resolution to the City Council yesterday which would authorize immediately the acquisition, either by condemnation or eminent domain proceedings, of the land necessary for the purpose.

The resolution also would have the allocation of $164,899, already made to the major traffic plan to widen and extend Macy street from Howard street to a connection with Sunset Boulevard near North Broadway, applied solely to the cost of extending the street from Main street to Spring street. Proceedings for the larger project have never been instituted and Councilman Sanborn argued that the present traffic situation is such as to demand immediate action on the portion named in his resolution. The resolution was referred to the Council's Street Opening and Widening Committee.

Langdon Figures in Auto Crash

Harry Langdon, film comedian, while driving last night, was in collision with a car driven by Leon Sturgeon, 20 years of age, of 422 Van Buren street, who was seriously injured. With Sturgeon was Miss Christine Hirschman, 19, of 4700 Third avenue, also injured slightly. Police of the University division, who reported the collision, said that the accident was unavoidable, and did not hold Langdon.

The cars collided at the intersection of Jefferson and Mansfield streets. Sturgeon received a basal skull fracture and a deep laceration on the forehead. He and Miss Hirschman were treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

AGREEMENT TERMINATED

On recommendation of General Manager Edwards, the Harbor Commission yesterday terminated its agreement with the Pacific Electric Railway for space in the transit shed at Berth 158, used as a freight office, as it will not require this space with the opening of unified rail operations at the port on June 1, next. The secretary was directed to notify the railway of the action of the board.

BOYS IN RALLY WITH FATHERS

More Than 7000 at Shrine Auditorium Celebration

Today Youths Will Peep at Wheels of Industry

Many Groups to be Guests of Business Concerns

An elaborate get-together celebration attended by more than 7000 boys and fathers was held in the Shrine Auditorium last night as a special event in the Boys' Week program.

The auditorium was filled to capacity, with many persons standing, and several hundred are reported to have been turned away because of lack of room. An extensive bill of theatrical acts was presented by well-known Los Angeles performers.

INDUSTRY DAY

Dist.-Atty. Buron Fitts spoke to boys and fathers. He declared that crime is a boy problem. "If Americans spent more money and time in the making of citizens they would spend less in remaking them," he asserted. The District Attorney stated that the prisons of the country are monuments to neglected boyhood.

"It is significant that no Boy Scout or Girl Scout of this State has ever been confined in San Quentin or Folsom penitentiaries," he pointed out in praise of these movements.

Judge Robert Scott, Juvenile judge of the Superior Court, lauded the purpose and accomplishments of such municipal programs as Boys' Week.

Urging the fathers of the city to establish closer contact with their growing sons, Attorney Joseph Scott made a fervent appeal for the continuation of such boy-and-father get-together meetings. He said that a certain type of youth is now suffering from an inferiority complex because he is thrown in constant contact with women school and Sunday-school teachers until he is of high-school age.

According to Warren McIntyre, secretary of the general committee for the promotion of Boys' Week, the meeting was the most enthusiastic one of its kind yet held in the city. A. J. Gray was director of the program.

Today is Boys' Day in Industry of Boys' Week and groups of boys will be entertained and given first-hand insight of business and production methods at stores, banks, factories, aviation fields and other commercial organizations.

More than 350 business establishments are opening their doors today to groups that range in number from a dozen boys to as high as 1000. In many cases general managers and superintendents personally are taking charge to see that the boys are given the fullest business demonstrations of how raw materials are manufactured, methods of sales trading, systems of transportation and the scope of retailing.

In a number of downtown department stores boys will act as executives in all departments, and will be guests of business luncheons at which they will hear advisory talks by business leaders.

WHAT THEY'LL SEE

Six local high school boys, for instance, will be introduced to some of the interesting phases of the clothing business at Silverwood's this morning and will be entertained at a luncheon and a swim at the Jonathan Club at noon. The six will report at the store at 9 a.m., inspect the general offices, witness a demonstration of a huge machine which classifies order cards of thousands at a time, follow a felt hat through the various stages of manufacture and view the many departments of Silverwood's. The boys selected are Paul Robinson and Alonzo Fulton of Belmont; Leonard Fels and Charles Cormack of Hollywood, and Norman Hackstaff and Howard Smith of Los Angeles.

Desmond's will have seventy-five boys for the day, giving them a luncheon in the ballroom of the Alexandria at which speakers will be Joseph Scott, chairman of the Boys' Week Committee and Dr. Paul W. Ivey, business educator.

Tomorrow is Boys' Day in the Schools and every junior and senior public high school and parochial school and most of the private schools will turn affairs over to boy leaders who will act as principals, vice-principals and teachers.

FINK CITED ON 'FIXING' COMPLAINT

Politician and Merchant Faces Contempt Action in Liquor Case Charges

An order citing Harry Fink, local politician and merchant of 235 West Fourth street, for contempt of court in connection with an asserted $500 "fixing" case, was issued yesterday by Municipal Judge Bogue. Fink was ordered to appear the 10th inst. to answer the charges.

The citation was issued following the filing of an affidavit by James H. Lyon, San Pedro, recently sentenced by Judge Bogue on liquor charges. Lyon was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail and to pay a fine of $101 following his conviction on charges of sale, possession and transportation of liquor.

In the affidavit, Lyon declares that he paid Fink $395 to "fix" the charges against him, after the haberdasher had demanded $500 for the "job." Following his sentence to jail, Lyon swears, he protested to Fink, whereupon the latter returned $50 of the amount collected from Lyon to the latter's wife for living expenses, telling her that the rest of the money, aside from the $101 fine which Fink had paid, had been used to "square the law." In his affidavit Lyon makes no protest against paying the money to Fink, but asks that the latter be made to return the money which has not been accounted for.

Officials of the All-the-Year Club assert that tourists last year spent $136,000,000 in Southern California and at last accounts practically none of them were demanding their money back. We aim to please. It sounds like a lot of dough at that.

SPEEDING UP

If there are delays and difficulties in getting the Colorado River improvement under way the government will not be to blame. The Secretary of the Interior has already named three recognized experts as a board of consulting engineers for the work and they may have some of the preliminaries out of the way before the politicians are able to provide the official machinery.

WEAK HUSBANDS

At a recent round-up of members of the Society of Physical Research one of the profound searchers revealed the fact that wife-beating was becoming a lost art. There was a day when the lady of the house had the right to expect a prodigious lambasting when the husband came home from his work. She might even boast to the neighbors of the physical prowess of her spouse. But that day has faded. Now the husband lacks the spirit to slap her wrist. The wife may strive to egg him into action, but he only sulks and climbs into the hay. The old home is not what it used to be—not by a blamed sight.

LOCAL COLOR

A well-known character actor delightfully explains how he gets into the fit mood for his representations. If he is to portray a Spanish type he takes a map of Spain and pins it to the wall of his dressing-room. Then when he hears or reads anything about Spain he sticks a peg through the map at the particular spot mentioned. When he is ready for his stuff he takes a comprehensive look at the map and immediately becomes Don Juan Alagazamo y Pimento. It is a wonderful but simple process. If he has an English part he sticks up a map of England, runs his thumb through London and at once takes on a cockney dialect. These actors are not all as dumb as they look.

DAVIS AND MacKAY INDICTED

The new grand jury has started its investigation of the fixing activities that centered around the Getzoff tailor shop by the indictment of Harold Davis and Donald MacKay, formerly high deputies in the regime of Dist.-Atty. Keyes. The charges, which are of asserted bribery in the Julian and Lasker cases, meet with vehement denials from both men accused. They are entitled to the presumption of innocence until a jury has passed on the evidence. According to Dist.-Atty. Fitts, the charges are supported by documentary evidence as well as by the testimony of Ben Getzoff, whose word, of course, cannot stand alone because he was a co-conspirator.

But without regard to the guilt or innocence of Davis and MacKay, the grand jury investigation should continue until everything has been uncovered, and all the various men named in public rumor have had their day in court or are exonerated. There is much reason to believe that Keyes, Rosenberg and Getzoff, the three men already convicted, are by no means the only ones who should be punished. Offenses against justice are among the worst that can be committed, and justice will not be satisfied until the entire story of the District-Attorney's office during Keyes's incumbency has been laid bare. The grand jury of 1928 made an excellent start; the grand jury of 1929 should build upon that foundation.

SPIRITUAL QUALIFICATIONS

Our fourteen candidates for the office of Mayor at the primary election are all stressing the civic virtues a man is presumed to possess when seeking to win the approval of the voters. They are paying the usual strict attention to the material issues foremost in the public mind. Pre-election pledges and efforts to swing votes are running true to form.

Business acumen, executive ability, personal magnetism, a fighting heart and a straight thinking brain are attributes the voter hopes to discover after election in the man to whom he gives his suffrage. Sympathy with the needs and desires of the electorate is the candidate's stock-in-trade to bring the people to his support. Naturally any man seeking to fill the responsible position of Mayor of the fifth largest city in the United States rings the changes on these vital points and issues.

It has remained, however, for John R. Quinn to inject into the present campaign a higher note and a nobler purpose to which he believes every aspirant to an office of public trust should dedicate himself. Speaking before a church audience last Sunday Mr. Quinn made a plea for spiritual values in civic affairs, earnestly advocated a creed of kindliness and tolerance in religious worship and declared his desire to be so guided if called upon to lead forces in civil life.

Los Angeles is essentially a religious-minded community and while its citizens are paying close attention to the political views and platforms of the candidates for the important office of Mayor there is a great mass of voters who will hail with joy Mr. Quinn's insistence on the need of higher ideals in public life. These words of his will strike a responsive chord in thousands of hearts where faith and religion have not been deadened by the tear and wear of temporal affairs:

> We have need of more spirituality in public life. I do not mean that any faith should be emphasized to the detriment of another, but that the fundamental teachings of all religions should be kept closer to the minds of public officials. Kindness and solicitude for the other fellow is a fairly good creed for the man who is in a position of public power. Belief is a rock. Unbelief is a dragging anchor.

A Mayor of Los Angeles is not going to be a worse Mayor in the eyes of our citizens for entertaining such sentiments as these or for giving them high places among the qualifications for a candidate seeking public office. There are many necessities in public life, and a man must be both practical and efficient to give them the attention they demand.

But spirituality is more than a necessity—it is an essential; and Mr. Quinn will commend himself to all religious people, irrespective of sect or creed, by emphasizing this cardinal virtue in the heat of a political contest. For spirit is the driving power of this country, and where is that driving power more vital than in the executives elected to control our democratic institutions?

At the present time many issues are awaiting consideration which will affect the future of Los Angeles for years to come. On the choice of the best men to direct our civic affairs depends the right or wrong solution of these pressing problems. The increase in church membership proves that our people are alive to the spiritual needs of the nation. They cannot be separated from its material progress. To have the leading candidate for the Los Angeles Mayoralty recognize this truth and incorporate it in his political platform is a hopeful sign that religious influence is penetrating the public life of the city, and will have due weight in solving its problems.

THE STATE BUILDING SITE

Many citizens of Los Angeles, city and county, will share the disappointment of Supervisor Wright at the tentative selection of a site at First and Hill streets for the new State building. While within the geographical limits of some of the Civic Center plans, it is considerably removed from the group of buildings already in use in the Civic Center and separated from them by a group of private buildings, certain to stand for years.

There are better sites at Broadway and Temple street, First and Spring and First and Main, any of which may be had at a cost not much greater than the county proposes to pay for the Humphrey site at First and Hill; and in a matter of this kind, in the case of a public building which probably will stand for half a century as a minimum, a slight difference in cost does not greatly matter.

The Supervisors say they expect, some day, to acquire all the Broadway frontage between First and Temple streets as a site for a new courthouse, which will bring the State building, if erected at First and Hill streets, within the Civic Center group. But that courthouse is yet a long way off. The county has only just completed the Hall of Justice at a cost of $8,000,000, and is not yet ready to do more than think about a $15,000,000 courthouse. It will be years before a stone of it can be laid.

There are also legal difficulties in the way of the First and Hill site, it appears, due to the probability that the north side of First street will be cut back some forty feet and the county, as owner of the land, would be entitled to damages, but not liable for assessment for part of the cost. Whether the county could even enter an assessment district by its own consent is doubtful.

There is the further fact that the First-and-Hill site is not among those approved by the State, and may be rejected as unsuitable. State officials have declared informally that they do not want it.

There is need for haste in the selection of a State building site, since the State is impatient to get out of rented quarters. The taxpayers are anxious that there be reasonable economy in the expenditure of public money for the acquisition of the site. But the need for haste is not so great that a mistake has to be made; and it is poor economy to buy something you do not want merely because it is slightly cheaper than something you do want, and which will answer your purposes.

It is not too late to reconsider.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

A YOUNG woman who wanted to know why she couldn't sing for radio was advised to consult an acoustician and flounced out indignantly. She said that was no way to talk to a girl who wasn't even married.

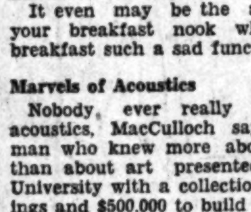
There are lots of people who don't know what acousticians or acoustics engineers are, but Campbell MacCulloch, who is one of them, tells us everybody will know soon.

He says acoustics is or are the great new science. People are finding that it isn't their tonsils, after all, which are driving them crazy—it's their acoustics. Managers of big offices have discovered that men do more work and are better tempered if acoustics are right. The office worker may not be conscious of the constant irritation of conflicting sound waves, but they are gnawing away at his nerves all the time.

It even may be the acoustics of your breakfast nook which make breakfast such a sad function.

Marvels of Acoustics

Nobody ever really understood acoustics, MacCulloch says, until a man who knew more about finance than about art presented Harvard University with a collection of paintings and $500,000 to build a home for them. Harvard needed a theater, so it built one, and stuck the pictures of dubious merit in the basement. But the spook of the departed donor rose up and put a jinx on the enterprise. The theater was lovely, but sound waves clashed and jarred and fought each other in it.



ACOUSTICS, MY MAN!

So Prof. Wallace C. Sabin, shark on physics, was told to let everything else slide and study acoustics. He learned that certain materials absorbed sound while others reflected it; some broke sound waves while others let them flow over in even billows. He studied the whispering gallery in St. Paul's, London, and learned its secret so well that when a friend of his built the new Missouri State Capitol a similar whispering gallery was put in it. Now, MacCulloch says, you may stand near the base of the dome in the Missouri Capitol and utter a word, and after about eight seconds the sound of it, which has been traveling all about the dome, will come back and strike you in the ear opposite the direction in which you spoke.

Photographing Sound Waves

Theaters, churches and public auditoriums in many cities were improved acoustically by Sabin, who studied fabrics, air pockets and such things. Then Edmund H. Hansen, the man who patented the first model for sending photographs across the ocean by wireless, worked out a process for photographing sound. Voices, instruments, anything can be put on film or on a phonograph record. Fox films grabbed Hansen, but MacCulloch, who has been experimenting along similar line for years, secured permission to use his patents.

HEE! HEE! 7500 TONES!
AND ALL BAD!

In pronouncing the letter "a" alone there are 2400 tonal variations, MacCulloch avers, "and on a film running 130 feet a minute its picture makes about eight inches. That photograph can be studied as a doctor studies an X-ray photograph. The reason why feminine voices do not do so well as male voices in radio is that there are only from 4000 to 4500 tones in a woman's voice, while there are from 7500 to 8500 tones in a man's voice."

An Optimist

MacCulloch has equipment which will take anything—speech, music or any sound—out of the air and transcribe it on phonograph records more accurately than any court stenographers' records of speech alone could be. He believes in time many uses now undreamed will be found for the microphone. "How valuable it might be," he said, "to repeat the promises of some men now running for office to them, in their own voices, a little later on."

Talking Pictures

We're so dense we had gathered only very vague ideas of how "talking pictures" are projected. MacCulloch showed us "pictures" of voices and of music. In the talking pictures he considers best, he said, both the sound and the action are photographed simultaneously, on the same film, but on different parts of it. That makes synchronization perfect. When that film is "run," the picture part is projected on the screen while the sound part is projected, by wire, through the loud speaker behind the screen. The "talkie-effect" pictures shown in some theaters are not really talkies, but silent pictures with phonographic accompaniment, and the synchronization necessarily is far from perfect.

MEXICAN MIGRATION

No sooner has the Assembly put to sleep one attack on the prosperity of Southern California than another bobs up, the union-labor lobby at Sacramento being apparently indefatigable. This time it is a pair of joint resolutions memorializing Congress to stop, or to restrict greatly, the seasonal movement of Mexican laborers to and fro across the border, without which the making and cropping of most California agricultural products would be impossible—at least until the places of these laborers had been supplied from Porto Rico or the Philippines.

These resolutions, one introduced by Assemblymen Adams and Fisher, the other by Assemblymen Anderson, Jones, Lyons and Bernard, are both of the same general tenor, both filled with half-truths and whole misstatements which completely ignore two fundamental verities which are the crux of the problem: that a common labor supply which will do hard hand work in the fields and orchards is absolutely necessary; and that a white American common labor supply of this kind does not exist.

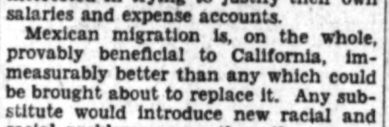
The Mexican laborer has his faults, but he also has virtues compared with any other kind of labor that has been tried, and about all the kinds there are have been. He can stoop; he can work in the blazing sun; he can and will move from place to place as his services are needed; and he can and does, for the most part, vanish back over the border again when he is no longer required.

He does not compete with white American labor, skilled or unskilled. He is not employed because he is cheap or because his standard of living is low; prices for agricultural common labor in California are the highest in the world.

Some of the "whereases" in these resolutions recite the most complete nonsense imaginable. From the Adams-Fisher resolution, for instance, may be culled these assertions: "The Legislature of the State of California believes that representations heretofore made to Congress that Mexican labor is necessary for the profitable pursuit of agriculture in California were neither fact nor the will of the farmers and fruit growers of California"—an assertion completely negatived by the unanimity with which all the farm and orchard organizations of the State went to Washington last winter to oppose the Box bill, and by the reams of testimony given by individual growers before the House Committee on Immigration. Another gem, considering the history of a State which once was completely Mexican, is this from the Anderson-Jones-Lyons-Bernard resolution: "The continued unrestricted inflow of Mexican people and the rate of increase of those already here mean the gradual replacement of the American people by those of Mexican blood." The fact is, of course, that the relative proportion of Mexicans in California has been steadily dropping for nearly a century and the "gradual replacement" is in the other direction.

The union-labor lobbyists, if they are intelligent, know such resolutions are the veriest pish and tosh, if they do not realize how much harm their adoption might do to California and their own members. They feel, however, they have to come back from the State Capitol with something to show. They are only interested in trying to justify their own salaries and expense accounts.

Mexican migration is, on the whole, provably beneficial to California, immeasurably better than any which could be brought about to replace it. Any substitute would introduce new racial and social problems worse than the present ones.



FUTILE SAVING

By James J. Montague

I am glad I was born in this time-saving age
When trolleys and subways and trains
Enable me longer each day to engage
In the arduous use of my brains.
Many hours, that I spent when I journeyed afoot—
Provided I feel so inclined—
In these days of swift transit, can always be put
To the task of improving my mind.
Every minute I save is now readily usable
And I know that to waste them is quite inexcusable.

I have saved, I suppose, about twenty-four years
By riding to work every day,
But in spite of this palpable gain there appears
To be little increase in my pay.
Efficiency experts, by systems they know
Have added more years to my time,
But the money result, I confess, doesn't show
To the meager extent of a dime.
When I think of the time that improvements have won for me
I cannot help wondering just what it's done for me.

My grandfather worked from the dawn's early light
Till the cows tolled their homecoming chimes,
And then read the papers far into the night,
For he had to keep up with the times.
No motorized tools cut his labors in two
As he toiled o'er the plough-furrowed lea,
He had no electrical jiggers to do
The work they are doing for me.
Ah! that time I've been saved! And yet what have I done with it?
Well, nothing at all; except to have fun with it!

Don't Forget School Board

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am astonished at the scant interest shown in Los Angeles in the candidates for the Board of Education. Every sort of publicity is given to candidates for Mayor and Councilmen day upon day, and yet when responsibility is considered in government, expenditure of tax moneys and in creating good citizenship the Board of Education has a greater field than all others combined. This is the only city where I have found such a condition. Everywhere I resided previously, even a Presidential election did not create more interest than a school board election. This is as it should be and to this standard we must return if our problems which I have watched for nearly a score of years are to be solved aright.

Seven Hours Sufficient

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In re Mrs. Christine Stering's letter of a few days ago on the subject of homework for children, I would like to commend her stand.

Seven hours a day seems enough time in which to tie a youngster down to study—and with better planning and more co-operation on the part of the teachers I believe all home work would be unnecessary.

Lamb's Case Analyzed

PASADENA, April 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Will you permit me once more to enter the lists on behalf of the school children of today? J. C. Lamb, whose letter appeared in The Times of April 25, has evidently overlooked the fact that schools seventy years ago did not use the high-pressure methods now employed, nor were children subjected to the same kind of nerve-racking hurry and noise that our children have to meet. Neither was the boy of that day forced by an all-powerful school board to follow given lines, and the boy in question was past his most trying years, moreover, when "he burned the midnight oil many a night." His record was remarkable, and I do not wish to detract from it, but simply to point out that his handicaps were not the same that face the children of our period.

"Onward, Christian Soldiers"

SANTA PAULA, April 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your editorial, "Triumphant Christianity," you call attention to the increase of 1,115,000 church members in America during the year and say, "And the fact is more encouraging because the gain is better than the increase in our population."

I would like to inquire if, in your opinion, there is any connection between "Triumphant Christianity" and the alarming and widespread increase in lawlessness, which President Hoover deplored in his recent address?

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Shorthand?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address, Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Instruction in shorthand is individual or in small groups at the Central Evening High School, 469 North Hill street, so that the student can progress at his own rate. Some are just beginning, while one is taking dictation at a hundred words a minute.

Two distinguished members of this class are James Powers and Claud Schaup, who won medals in the recent Gregg speed contest for 175 words a minute. They are now training at Central for the contest in dictation at 200 words a minute.

The instructor is Mrs. Edith L. Brandenburg, who has not only taught shorthand for some years, but who has also had actual experience in the business world, as secretary in the claim department at the Broadway Department Store.

This class meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, from 7 to 9 p.m. There is no charge for instruction, but each student must deposit $1 for the use of the text-book. This deposit is returned as soon as the book is returned.

A RICH MAN'S TROUBLES

Attention is called to the unhappy condition of Alphonse (Scarface) Capone of Chicago and the world at large. This gentleman, after a notable career as bootlegger gang chieftain in a city where primacy in such endeavor marks the holder as extraordinary, decided to retire to well-rewarded repose.

Capone acquired residence in Miami, but that usually hospitable city manifested a strange inhospitality and made it plain to the distinguished resident that his absence was preferred to his presence. Then the owner of the picturesque soubriquet tried his luck in Nassau, capital of the Bahamas. Three houses he tried in succession to purchase were denied him by the owners at any price. At last reports he was a homeless wanderer.

MOTORMEN

BY M. D. BROWN

A small army of motormen serves Los Angeles and its suburbs. Together with the conductors they make a service unit, supplementing each other at every turn. Men of sufficient seniority are allowed to choose their crew mates. There are numerous instances of problems which they have solved together. These solutions are often ingenious, as when one early morning car discovered a house in its path. The movers had abandoned it the night before at a good distance from the end of the car line. The crew knew that there were a lot of people at the end of that line waiting to go to work on the early car. Wherefore, they commandeered a milk wagon, the only thing abroad on wheels, went and gathered up their passengers and got them to work on time.

Upon the motorman falls, naturally, the major responsibility for the avoidance of accident. The management of each traction company steadily adds safety devices and regulations to increase the efficiency of the service. The results may be a little surprising to people not in the know. I have at hand the figures in this regard which have been compiled by the Pacific Electric. They may fairly be taken as representative of the entire Los Angeles area. In spite of an increase of 40,000 automobiles during 1928 in the district served by our city and interurban lines, there was an average decrease in accidents, involving railway cars, of 14 per cent under the record for 1927. This in the face of the well-known heavy increase in purely auto accidents. To surprise tests, totalling 28,000, motormen responded 98.9 per cent, a high ratio in any line of work.

Let us consider for a moment the motorman's problem. A car is approaching a switch. The motorman's business is not track. His track is supposed to be faultless. But he makes it his business. He sees a defective switch point, and stops his car in time to avoid an accident. A train is clipping along at a good pace when a motorman sees ahead a steel machine nut lying in the groove of a girder rail, and he gets stopped in time. It would have been perfectly possible for that bit of metal to have derailed his train. During a heavy storm a motorman noticed that the track seemed a little soft in one place. He stopped on his return trip and made examination. The dirt had been washed from beneath the rails for a space of six or eight feet. If he had hit the weakened stretch while going at his regular speed, it would have spelled taps for quite a number of us.

A boy runs across the track, not at the crossing, and only the motorman's alertness and instant action saves him. The same thing happens when a woman steps upon the track after the car has started. An auto makes a quick, unsignaled left turn. Collision is avoided only by a hair—but it is avoided, not once but hundreds of times. As a rule we hear only of the times when the motorman's watchfulness is bested by some one's recklessness.

The motorman's day, as the conductor's, is made up of the small items of service that cumulate slowly into an imposing whole—holding a car for a passenger who would otherwise have a ten-minute wait in a rain storm, helping a woman to recover a package she had dropped while crossing the street, going to the assistance of an old woman on the curb who is confused by the noise and the traffic, doing the same for the blind, waiting for a boy whose hat blows off, slowing for a serenely oblivious youngster skipping rope across the rails.

One Los Angeles motorman, holder of the Carnegie medal for bravery, saved the life of a baby he discovered sitting inside the rails of an interurban track. A fast train was coming down the track. He applied his brakes, leaped from his still moving car, ran ahead and snatched the child to safety as the oncoming train brushed him. Another motorman, who realized that he could not stop in time, climbed out on his fender and swept a child from the track with his hand.

Besides the eternally uncertain quantity—and quality—of the human factor, the motorman deals with the constant factors of speed, momentum, power, track and time. There are some of the runs in and around Los Angeles that make an ordinary layman wonder why the motormen on those lines don't suffer from cross eyes. When, along with the curves and frequent turns, children play continually in the street, the motorman's job isn't one most of us would covet. The narrow escapes from calamity are far more numerous than we suppose.

Not only is the standard of character among our trainmen high, but the labor turnover for the traction companies is low. Among them, as in our police force, there is an unusually large percentage of college and university men. The majority of them are doing what they are because they like that work, not merely because it offers a steady job. They endeavor to give value received and that bit over which puts them above the average and entitles them to our respect and friendly co-operation.

Hole That Cost Millions

The railroad tunnel under the Cascade Mountains cost about $14,000,000 and including electrification and other improvements, the total expenditure on the project has been approximately $25,000,000.

The new Cascade tunnel lifts the American record from the Moffatt tunnel in Colorado, 6.11 miles long, and is exceeded by only four tunnels in the world: the Simpin, St. Gothard, Loetschberg and Mt. Cenis tunnels in the Alps.

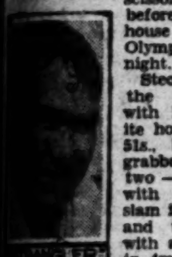
Nebraskan Takes First Fall With Favorite Hold

Show Surpasses All in Attendance Marks

BY PAUL LOWRY

(Strangler) Lewis is one up on Stecher today as the result of a rapid-fire victory over the leg scissors expert before a packed house at the Olympic last night.



"STRANGLER" LEWIS

Stecher won the first fall with his favorite hold in 20m. 51s., but Lewis grabbed the last two — the first with a body slam in 23m. 2s., and the second with a headlock in 4m. 18s.

It was a sizzling match from start to finish—the shortest in which these two celebrated behemoths of the mat ever have participated.

And in point of attendance the interest in the contest was shown that it outdid the recent affair in which "Dynamite Gus" Sonnenberg, the present heavyweight champion, played to a capacity crowd of 10,323 fans in a tilt with Stanley Stasiak.

Stecher and Lewis, both former champions, attracted a house of shrieking fans that numbered 10,-[illegible], with a "gate" of $28,640—both new records in local grappling annals.

Previous to last night's match Lewis and Stecher had each won two victories apiece and had one draw to their credit in a series of bouts that started back in 1916. But Lewis went into the lead last

Seraphs Buy Boehler From Oakland Club

George Boehler, rated as one of the best right-handers in the Coast League, was yesterday purchased from the Oakland club by President Joe Patrick to strengthen the Angels' wobbly pitching staff. Boehler won seventeen and lost fourteen games for the Oaks last season, but is said to be at outs with the Oakland management this year. He has made two trips to the majors during his long career, but both times failed to make the grade. Boehler ought to help the Angel mound staff and most certainly he can't hurt it. Boehler needs lots of work to keep his control, and he'll get it with the Angels. The big right-hander is scheduled to report to the Angels at Sacramento today.

Baby Sal Sorio yesterday outlined his training plans for his title bout with Tod Morgan in the Olympic May 20. The little Mexican challenger has cancelled all arrangements to come to Los Angeles either to social functions planned by his people or to do any training.

Bob White, former matchmaker of the San Bernardino boxing club who gave Sal his first start in the fight game, will be his chief trainer. For sparring partners he will use

SACS DOWN SERAPHS IN WILD GAME

Sacramento Wins Opening Tilt on Capital Diamond by Score of 10 to 9

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—Los Angeles let two leads slip through its fingers today and Sacramento took the opening game of the week's series, 10 to 9. It was a loosely played affair and a win would have been no credit to either side.

The two Sacramento runs coming in the seventh inning, which ultimately proved the winning markers, happened after two were out and the bases empty. The rally got under way when Berger let Keating's easy fly fall at his feet for a single. Subsequently French drew a base on balls and Monroe hit the centerfield fence with a double, both runners scoring.

Manager Marty Krug used four hurlers. Plitt went four innings in great fashion but began to weaken in the fifth when he was five runs to the good. In the sixth Plitt was driven from the box in a senatorial gany which netted six runs. Miller, Holling and Peters also had a fling on the mound and Holling was unfortunate enough to get charged with the defeat.

The Angels scored a run in the first and had what appeared to be a big inning nipped when Keating whiffed Tolson and Butler with two on bases. Two errors by Monroe and a single by Webb accounted for the run.

In the second inning, Dittmar tripled and scored on Statz's single. The Angels ran their advantage up to five runs in the fifth when Jones doubled, Berger walked and Tolson singled. Keating made the mistake of throwing to second too late to get Tolson on an attempted double play, filling the bases. Dittmar came through with a single to score two runners.

Sacramento began finding Plitt in the fifth when Camilli broke the ice with a double and scored on Keating's single. Hits by Osborne and Harris, after Monroe had forced Keating, gave the Solons another

FAST FIELD TO COMPETE IN COLISEUM CENTURY

Stars May Force Borah, Wykoff to Record; Three Runners Will Pace Conger and Carter

BY RALPH HUSTON

Contrary to the general opinion, there are a number of events on the A.A.U. championship program in the Coliseum Saturday, in addition to the Borah-Wykoff and Conger-Carter duels. Hugh Pinney of the L.A.A.C. reported that 196 entries had been received for the twenty-one events that make up the program, at closing time.

However, the two "big" races on the card are still the big centers of interest, and all four athletes were carefully watched in workouts yesterday. Wykoff, Conger and Carter all galloped in the Coliseum, while Borah trained on Bovard Field.

NICK CARTER

Wykoff tried a lot of starts, and then sprinted fifty yards in 5.3s. wihtuot trying. He was under the direction of Normal Hayhurst, his high-school mentor. Coach Tennison of the Glendale J.C. temporarily relinquished control.

FAST QUARTER

Carter raced a quarter all by himself in 50.6s., which is pretty good time in competition, and sensational for a single runner. The speedy L.A.A.C. four-lap star evidently is in top form, and ready for his classic battle with the I.C.A. speedster. Conger didn't do much, as he already is practically at peak form, and he is not taking any chances on going stale before the meet.

Three local runners yesterday sacrificed any hope they had of winning a S.P.A.A.A.U. mile championship, when they volunteered to enter the Carter-Conger race, and act as pace-makers. This event is a special mile match between America's premier milers, the regular mile championship race being carded later, on the same program. Earl Callahan, former Manual Arts star; Lee Hansen, another ex-Toiler, and more recently of Oregon State, and Ed Hammatt of the Trojan frosh will set pace for the milers in their special race.

Dean Cromwell, coach of both the Trojan and Mercury forces, secured the consent of the three milers, and has given them orders to race a three-quarters as fast as they can step. All three runners are capable four-lap

TRIBE SCALPS HOLLYWOODERS

Seattle Wallops Out 15-10 Victory Over Stars

BY BOB RAY

Maybe it was the hot weather and may be it wasn't, but anyway the Seattle Indians and Hollywood Stars certainly put on one of the worst ball games of the season out at Wrigley Field yesterday, the troublesome Tribe from Puget Sound pounding out a 15-to-10 victory after nine tedious innings.

OSCAR ECKHARDT

That made it two straight that the lowly Indians have smacked the Stars and something really ought to be done about it. The Seattle outfit, which rates as the worst in the circuit, was supposed to be a pushover for the Sheiks but the Stars haven't come close to winning a game from the Indians so far.

Yesterday's contest was featured by thirty-two hits, equally distributed between the two clubs, and the terrible pitching of a quintet of Hollywood hurlers. Hank Hulvey was so surprised when his mates presented him with a five-run lead in the first inning that he spent his time on the mound in a daze. Once the Indians get 'em groggy, they sneak right in to put over the scalping wallop. Hank has a tendency toward baldness, but that didn't deter the Indians one iota and they took Hulvey's scalp in the fifth inning.

Walter Kinney, Dick McCabe, Joe Marty and Bert Stanley followed

WALKER-HUDKINS SCRAP GAINS MOMENTUM HERE

SACRAMENTO, May 1. (AP)—The possibility of Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, fighting Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska wildcat, in a title match in California loomed today, it was announced in the Sacramento Bee, by William Hanlon, chairman of the California Boxing Commission.

Hanlon today telegraphed the Illinois Boxing Commission that he would accept the $10,000 forfeit sum posted by Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, as a guarantee that Walker would meet Hudkins for the crown either in Illinois or California before September 30 of this year.

Kearns has been endeavoring to have the forfeit sent to the California commission and the Illinois group has been willing to send it providing the champion's manager would agree to live up to the terms of the agreement.

Chairman Hanlon would not have anything to do with the matter until Kearns gave his word that he would fulfill the contract as signed with the Illinois board before the Walker-Loughran fight some time ago.

Hanlon has received an agreement from Kearns that he is willing to go through with the bargain. The local boxing commissioner has informed Chairman Paul Prehm of the Illinois commission of the manager's California attitude and has asked that the forfeit and the Illinois contract be sent here.

"The California commission will protect the Illinois board in its arrangements with Jack Kearns," Hanlon said today. "Kearns has informed me he will live up to the contract and will fight Walker against Hudkins in California in the near future. I have personal knowledge that Los Angeles is being favorably considered for the title go. Kearns will have to fulfill all parts of the Illinois contract in California or the money will be returned to that commission as a forfeit."

ILLINOIS BOARD TO DISCUSS TRANSFER

CHICAGO, May 1. (Exclusive)—Commissioner Sam Iuzzo tonight announced the State Boxing Commission will hold a special meeting tomorrow to make arrangements for the transfer of the $10,000 forfeit to the California ring board.

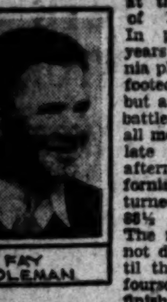
California Golfers Defeat Brentwood, 88½ to 76½, in Interclub Team Match

TURNOUT SETS NEW MARK ON CULVER CITY LINKS

Californians Cop Perpetual Trophy for First Time in Four Years; Nearly 200 Players Battle

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

California Country Club, where they hold national records for invitation tournaments, yesterday cracked another record when 188 golfers battled in the California-Brentwood interclub team match over the Culver City links. An entry of nearly 200 golfers for a match between two clubs is probably a new high mark for interclub tournament competition in the United States.



FAY COLEMAN

For the first time in four years California golfers last night enjoyed the pleasure of gormandizing at the expense of Brentwood. In previous years California players have footed the bill, but after a stiff battle that raged all morning and late into the afternoon, California was returned a victor, 88½ to 76½. The match was not decided until the last few foursomes had finished, and a few points separated the two clubs throughout the day.

In one of the features of the day, Olin Dutra, Brentwood "pro" and Charles "Chuck" Ward, Brentwood amateur, defeated Tom Stevens, California professionals, and Fay Coleman, Southern California amateur champion, 2 and 1. In all fairness to Fay, it must be said that he was not in the best of condition due to an illness, but insisted on playing. Dutra and Ward shot brilliant golf, and wound up with a best ball of 64.

Among those who contributed heavily to California's victory by scoring three points were Dave Martin and Nick Schaefer, E. F. McCobb, J. H. Wismith and Ben Gubser, H. E. Cochran and George Clark, L. Supple and W. Bradnock, J. A. Buchart and A. E. Houghton, Roy Culwell and Bert Rose, Lester Coleman and F. M. Slade, E. R. Hurst and J. C. Jenkins, H. L. Rosenberg and Paul Huntsberger, G. Waters and G. R. Maiden, J. H. Dickson and H. K. Smith and Gail Martin and D. P. O'Keefe.

The tournament was ably handled and directed by George Rubsch of California and George Runkle of Brentwood. Hugh Sampson of California, handled his job as starter perfectly. And it was no bed of roses at that.

California's new greens came in for much favorable comment from Brentwood golfers. They also intimated, however, that Brentwood's greens are pretty good, too, and that it will be a pleasure to take the California golfers on next time at home.

Following are the complete results of all matches. Names of California players first in each instance.

LAKESIDE TITLE PLAY STARTS TODAY

Lakeside's annual club championship, which starts today with a qualifying round, is expected to be hotly contested throughout with a fine field in prospect. Among those who are expected to be formidable contenders are Duke Hinnau, E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong, George Cornes, Frank Stevens, Jr., "Champ" Clark, E. S. The first clash between the two clubs took place two weeks ago and the Uplifters were returned the winner by one goal in an extra chukker contest. Since that time the Buccaneers have been on the trail of the Uplifters for a rematch because they believe they can reverse the decision gained by Roach's team.

Roach will have Lyel Puckett, Clair Brunson and Scott Hackley on his team. On the Buccaneers are Snowy Baker, Bob Millsap, J. G. V. Clarke and Charles Crawford. The game will be the fourth on the Southland's summer program.

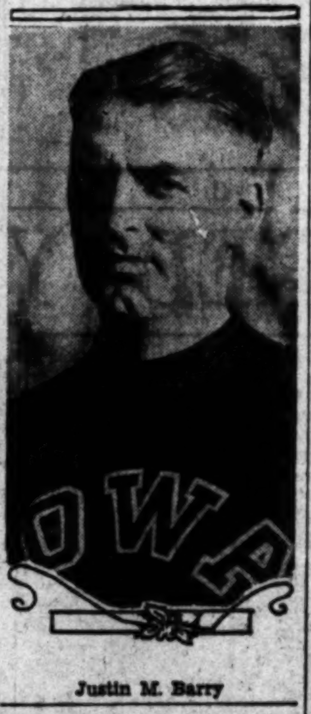
BARRY ARRIVES HERE IN FALL

Veteran Cage Team to Greet Coach



Justin M. Barry

JUSTIN M. BARRY, new Trojan basketball coach, will not hold spring practice in the hoop sport this season. Barry is not scheduled to join the S. C. coaching staff until next fall, when he will aid Howard Jones with the football team.

Barry will have a veteran crew of hoopsters to work with S. C. next year. Capt. Lloyd Thomas, regular guard, and Carl Denny, substitute, will be the only members of last season's team who will not return. Capt. Johnny Lehners will head a talented array, consisting of Jess Mortensen, Aaron Nibley, Henry Cano, Frank Smith, Ray Harris, Herman Hirdler, Gordon Boelter, Herman Hill and a few others, backed up by a squad recruited from last season's freshman and rook teams.

score. And then the Angels assumed what appeared to be a safe lead in the sixth by scoring three more tallies, these coming as the result of a walk to Stats, singles by Jones and Berger, a vicious double by Tolson and a sacrifice fly by Butler.

But the Solons showed that nothing is secure in baseball by rallying for six runs and tying up the game. In this frame, Koehler, French, Osborne and Meusel got singles and Backer and Camilli belted doubles.

In the seventh the Angels went out in front again when Dittmar beat out an infield hit, Holling sacrificed and Jones singled. But as above related, the Senators scored two after two were out in the seventh and made those markers win the ball game. Score:

Salo Finishes First in Dash

JOPLIN (Mo.) May 1. (AP)—Terrific winds and a cold downpour of rain failed to prevent Johnny Salo, the flying cop of Passaic, N. J., from winning the thirty-second lap of C. C. Pyle's bunion derby today.

He ran the forty-seven miles from Miller, Mo., to Joplin, Mo., in 5:51:10 hours to gain slightly on Pete Gavuzzi of England, leader in elapsed time. Gavuzzi finished sixth in today's jaunt.

Most of the plodding pilgrims were slowed up by the weather conditions. Dark clouds released torrents of rain and the winds in the open country approached tornado proportions.

BASEBALL PROBLEMS

WHAT'S wrong with the Giants? What's the trouble with Babe Ruth? Why haven't the Cubs blazed fiercer?

These are questions agitating the master minds of the eastern experts seeking to diagnose the major league situation to date.

The Giants with good pitching, catching, fielding and splendid hitting seem to have no faults. But they are barely holding their noses above water and likely to sink any minute. There appears to be nothing wrong, and yet there must be a loose screw somewhere.

The club isn't where it figures to be in the percentage standings. It may start clicking soon, but at any rate the experts are worrying about the matter. And so is John J. McGraw.

And there are the Cubs. They were destined to dash right out in front of the other National League contenders and stay there. But the lowly Beaneaters of Boston have been occupying the top perch with Chicago not much ahead of the remainder of the first division clubs.

Something's wrong, but what is it?

The Ruth situation is distressing not only to the big Bambino but more particularly to the Yanks. As Babe goes so goes the club. When he is knocking home runs over the fence posts the Yanks are world beaters. When the Babe goes into a slump the club follows suit.

The Babe is several swats behind his home-run record, and so far nobody has discovered the remedy.

ANOTHER 1926 RACE?

THE Borah-Wykoff race in the 100 at the Coliseum Saturday bears considerable similarity to the situation that existed in 1926 when Borah and Charley Paddock ran their neck-and-neck thriller—a race that gave Paddock his 9 5-10s. mark.

Borah was a freshman at Southern California, Paddock had graduated from the same institution and was running for the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Saturday Borah will be competing as a senior for Southern California. Wykoff, who graduated from Glendale High last year, is now in junior college there and preparing for entry to the Trojan institution next fall.

It will amount to a case of Wykoff, a freshman, against Borah, the senior.

It will be Borah's greatest trial this year. He has rounded into excellent shape as his 9 3-5s. race at Fresno last week-end indicates.

He is training as hard as his dental course permits. Sometimes he sneaks over to the Bovard Field track during the noon hour for his training period. Other days it is 6 o'clock before he gets out on the track under Dean Cromwell's watchful eye.

Dink Templeton, Stanford coach, caught Borah slightly under 9 5-10s. at Fresno. Wykoff was almost as fast, and he looked around twice. Neither was aware of his speed that day.

They ran in separate races at Fresno, but Saturday they meet in a test that should be a real epic of the cinder track.

THERE'S ANOTHER YEAR

LITTLE Augie Curtis, who went to the finals of the fleaweight division in the national A.A.U. boxing trials at Boston, is back home again, vowing that he will win next year.

The tiny fellow did remarkably well to advance to the finals in his first year of competition, and in his last match he bowed only to the superior strength and experience of his rival—a boy who was making his third stand for the crown. Little Augie has been boxing a year.

From Boston Augie went on to New York and saw the Bushy Graham-Kid Chocolate bout. He says Fidel La Barba will beat Chocolate.

La Barba is one of little Augie's idols. And Jackie Fields. The latter has taught Augie most of his smart stuff.

He may be a miniature Fields some of these days.

BLACK competition in Southern California fields is looming for George Godfrey.

Seal Harris came all the way from Chicago to the spot where the Black Shadow of Leiperville got his start to show his wares and issue a challenge to George. Seal meets Neil Clisby next week.

Now Bearcat Wright of Omaha, who has been disporting in Morrie Cohan's Pasadena arena, has entered the lists. He has beatn a lot of the men Godfrey has licked, and Cohan declares a Godfrey-Wright match would be a "black natural."

LEWIS DEFEATS STECHER

night in a match that saw Stecher at his best in spite of defeat by the headlock demon.

For a heavyweight, the tall Nebraskan was a veritable whirlwind in action, and he was continuously on the aggressive throughout the brief bout.

STARTLING EXECUTION

The leg scissors hold he clamped on Lewis for the first fall was perfectly and startlingly executed just as Lewis was grabbing for a headlock.

And as the big gladiators grappled for the third and deciding fall, Scissors Joe appeared to be well on the road to victory with several applications of the stomach crusher.

But somehow, Scissors Joe appeared to lack the proper leverage and the Strangler squirmed in and out of the lock and clamped on his own dangerous hold.

It was after a series of these perfectly horrendous headlocks that Lewis finally crushed Stecher to the floor and literally squelched him.

A straightaway hold-by-hold description of the match would show a big margin for Stecher. He was that aggressive last night.

For the twenty minutes that preceded the first fall Stecher worked on Lewis like a beaver, playing for arm holds, reverse full nelsons, stepover toe holds, head scissors, etc.

HOLD BRINGS GRIEF

He was rewarded for his industry by victory in the first fall, but the same hold brought him to grief in the second fall. Scissors Joe had secured a perfect hold about the Lewis tummy tum-tum, but somehow Lewis squirmed and nullified the leverage.

With Stecher clinging to him like a leech Lewis rose from the floor with his adversary and body slammed him to the floor. That was the beginning of the end, for Lewis made short work of Stecher in the final spasm.

In the semi-wind-up Nick Lutze won a popular victory over Jack O'Malley with a body slam in 29 minutes and 47 seconds. Both of these good-looking boys worked hard and their fracas was fast from start to finish—so fast that Promoter Lou Daro let Lutze clamber into the ring to challenge the winner of the Lewis-Stecher imbroglio.

The opener was won by Bill Beth from Jack Hunnel with a body slam in 16 minutes and 38 seconds.

Barnes Says Pivot Hip Turn

THE LEFT KNEE MUST GIVE ELSE ONE CANNOT PIVOT—IT BENDS IN TOWARD THE RIGHT KNEE AND FORWARD TOWARD THE BALL
Sol Metzger

BY SOL METZGER

The pivot, according to "Long Jim" Barnes, is a hip turn, a natural one at that. Merely by keeping the head in place and by taking the club back you feel the pull on your left side. This pull acts on the left leg as that hip starts coming around. It causes the left leg to bend inward at the knee toward the right and forward toward the ball.

Many golf teachers lay stress upon this bending of the left knee as to direction. They assert it must bend in toward the right knee or a slice will result. Not Barnes. Jim bends it in and forward in a natural manner and is not given to slicing by a couple of birdies. Nor could Bobby Jones be called a slicer, though he bends his left knee forward more than some say is permissible.

The point about this leg and knee is that it be used to balance the weight at the top of the swing. Let us look into that tomorrow.

Fully 90 per cent of the golfers slice. The causes are curable. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, care of The Times, and request his illustrated leaflet on "Slicing."

Ray Miller in Lucky Victory

DETROIT, May 1. (AP)—Ray Miller, Chicago lefthook artist, was awarded an unpopular decision over Billy Petrolle, the Fargo Express, at the conclusion of their lightweight championship elimination contest at the Olympia arena here tonight.

When Elmer (Slim) McClelland, the referee, raised Miller's right hand at the finish of the ten rounds, the crowd of 14,000, startled and amazed, cut loose with boos and hisses of disapproval. In the next instant the customers in arena and gallery sections flooded the ring with newspapers and programs. Miller was loudly hissed, along with Referee McClelland, as they left the ring.

Pertolle, battle-scared veteran of the lightweight ranks, won six, perhaps seven, of the ten rounds, in the judgment of unbiased obesrvers at the ringside. Miller was credited with winning three with the opening session being fairly even, although some of the experts credited Petrolle with having the shade even in this session.

TROJAN NINE IN 11-3 VICTORY OVER BRUIN

Coach Sam Crawford's University of Southern California baseball club made it one-up with the University of California at Los Angeles nine, in the Los Angeles intercollegiate baseball championship series, yesterday afternoon, by trouncing the Bruins in an 11-to-3 fracas played on Moore Field. The game was closely contested until the eighth inning, when the Trojan bats got onto the hang of Capt. (Whitey) Graham's slants and chased him out of the box with seven hits and four runs.

Dick Schultz, hurling ace for the Southern California team, pitched a neat game, holding the Bruins down to six hits. In the second inning, Fitzgerald, Bruin second sacker, crashed through Schultz's curves to bat out a home run deep in the center-field territory. Hanby, Trojan center fielder, got the other four-ply basehit of the day in the eighth inning, when he contributed to "Whitey" Graham's debacle by pushing two men across the plate ahead of himself.

Tarchone, third baseman, and Ward, backstop, were the hitting heroes of the day for Southern California. Tarchone garnered two doubles and two singles in five times at bat, and Ward batted out a double and two one-base bingles in four times up. Stahl, Bruin first secured two hits in four to annex hitting honors for

NO DECISION

CINCINNATI, May 1. (AP)—The Cubs and the Reds fought through thirteen innings to a tie in the last game of their series here today, halting only when it became time for the Chicago players to rush to the station to board a train for Philadelphia. The Cubs open their eastern invasion against the Phillies tomorrow.

The Bruins pounded Adolfo Luque for four runs in the third on four hits, many of which were lucky. Cuyler got a triple in this round when Allen fell in fielding the ball and Hack Wilson got his fourth home run when his drive to right rolled up the carriage driveway. The Cubs failed thereafter to score and got no hits off Kenneth Ash and Eppa Rixey, who succeeded Luque.

The Reds tied the score in the ninth on doubles by Red Lucas and Hughey Critz, mixed with a hit batsman. Dixon opened the thirteenth with a double and Zitzman and Critz were purposely passed after Sukeforth had sacrificed Dixon to third, but Shaner popped out and Allen took a called third strike.

DEVELOPING FAST, CLOSE INFIELDING

Air-tight Playing Possible With Squibb's Shaving Cream

Here's a line-up that makes shaving a fast, smooth-running game. On first, put a bit of warm water, let the razor hold down second—a good, keen blade for short-stop—and right on the key sack put Squibb's Shaving Cream.

Watch this infield work. They play fast, air-tight shaving. From the first moment, with Squibb's in the line-up, things work smoothly and comfortably—the razor mows down the beard with sharp, even strokes that leave your face feeling smooth and spruced-up. Comfortable, too, with a freshness you would never expect.

Squibb's Shaving Cream is a newcomer, but it's big-league material already. Four years were spent in developing it, four years of long study and tedious laboratory experiment. Out of all this expert care, came the Squibb formula—and a shaving cream that makes shaving an easy game for the razor. Months were spent in testing to prove its worth and high caliber, and every test was just another point for a perfect shaving score.

Put Squibb's in your shaving lineup tomorrow. Buy a tube tonight at any druggist's for 40c.

INDIANS MASSACRE STARS

Seattle Pounds Five Hollywood Hurlers Hard to Chalk Up Second Straight Win, 15-10

Hulvey to the mound and were treated just as rudely as was "Hankus-Pankus," the erstwhile keeper of the nuts.

INDIANS TREAT 'EM ROUGH

There were four home runs during the contest, Dud Lee getting one in the first inning for the Stars. Frits Knothe, Wally Hood and Oscar Eckhardt did the four-base cannonading for the Tribe. Eckhardt, by the way, hammered out three singles aside from his homer and turned in a flossy catch of Heath's line drive to left center in the seventh.

Frank Lamansky, whom the Indians recruited from the Mississippi Valley League, took the mound after Lyle Graham had yielded five runs in the first inning. Lamansky is a left-hander and consequently had little trouble with the Star batsmen, who like southpaw pitching like Bill Lane likes to lose a ball game. Lamansky's one rough inning was the eighth, in which the Stars scored three times, but the Tribe was so far ahead by this time that the Seattle southpaw didn't have to worry about such a trivial matter as a few runs scoring.

The Indians made their runs in copious quantities, such as three in the second, five in the fifth, and four in the sixth, not to mention two in the seventh and one more in the eighth.

OSTENBERG LOOKS GOOD

Oscar Vitt changed his line-up and had Leo Ostenberg in at third and Red Rollings shifted over to second in Maloney's place. Ostenberg did his share to help Hollywood win, the young third-sacker driving over four runs and scoring one with his triple and single.

The Stars scored five runs off Graham in the first inning on Lee's homer, Ostenberg's triple with the sacks full and Bassler's single.

Ordinarily five runs is all the Stars get in a game and it looked as though Hulvey ought to make that good for a victory. But Hank ran into trouble in the second, when three singles, a hit batsman, a sacrifice fly and an infield out gave the Indians three runs.

Rollings's double and singles by Albert and Carlyle gave the Stars a run in their half of the second and made the score, 6 to 3.

INDIANS ON WAR PATH

The Indians went on the war path again in the fifth and drove Hulvey and Kinney to the showers with an attack that netted five runs and put them in the lead to stay. Two walks, a hit batsman, an error by Lee, singles by Muller, Wade and Ellsworth and Knothe's home run combined to assure the downfall of the Stars in that big round.

McCabe started pitching home run balls in the sixth, Eckhardt and Hood hitting successive homers to score three runs before Marty replaced Dick. Marty yielded a fourth run before the inning ended.

By this time your correspondent lost track of the merry-go-round around the bases, so we'll just let it go at showing you the box score, which follows: The score:

ANOTHER TIE

ST. LOUIS, May 1. (AP)—A two-run rally in the ninth by Pittsburgh forced the Cardinals and the Pirates to a thirteen-inning 4-to-4 tie here today. Sherdel went the route for the National League champions and was touched for sixteen hits, including a triple and three doubles and two bases on balls as well as a balk. The Pirates used two pinch hitters to good advantage in the ninth, when both Stoner and Riconda connected, the latter driving in a run.

The Pirates opened by scoring a pair in the first while the Cards got to Hill for single runs in the second and third and drove him from the box in the fifth with two more runs.

ACORNS TRIM SEALS IN 8-TO-5 BALL GAME

OAKLAND, May 1. (AP)—Oakland's Oaks did a lot of timely hitting today to defeat the Seals, 8 to 5, and even up the series. Walter Mails, left-hander, was driven to the showers when a walk and four hits brought in four runs. Turpin and Jones, who followed, also were hit hard. Craghead allowed the Seals ten hits, but his team-mates turned in better support. Score:

SAL OPENS HIS TRAINING CAMP

Mexican Selects Sparring Mates for Morgan Go

Charley Lupica, Bobby Herman, Billy DeFoe and Trench King for the first part of the grind.

OPENS CAMP

Grafton Leabo, Sal's manager, yesterday opened a camp where the fringe of the beautiful orange groves meets the foothills of the San Bernardino Mountains.

Sorio will live in this camp away from town, but he will do his boxing at the Orange Belt Athletic Club. He did his first boxing yesterday. Sal is about five pounds overweight.

Mayor I. N. Gilbert of San Bernardino was a visitor at the training camp. The entire population of the Gate City are steamed up over Sal. The little fighter, who once lived in a 'dobe hut, is now the most talked of citizen of San Bernardino.

There was some talk of hiring high-powered trainers and allow them to correct any flaws in Sal's defense they might find. But this too, has been tossed aside.

It is believed that by trying to change the boy's style with the fight only three weeks away his hitting power might be diminished. It is with the sock Sal hopes to win Morgan's crown.

Morgan will do no boxing for a few days. He is working at Fullerton. An outdoor ring is being set up. He may not start work with sparring partners until the first of next week. He is not much overweight right now.

OLYMPIC CARD

The Olympic is showing a double ten-round feature next Tuesday with Eddie Burnbrook meeting Roy Moore and two black heavyweights, Neil Clisby and Seal Harris, fighting to get a chance to meet George Godfrey.

Burnbrook is the New York boy who holds knockout decisions over Joe Dundee, Sergt. Sammy Baker and Pete Latzo. All were registered when they were in the army as welterweights.

Harris, the man Clisby faces, is bigger than Godfrey. He stands six feet six inches tall and weighs 240 pounds. He would be the nearest thing in size ever sent against Godfrey out here if he can deliver with Clisby.

Boxing on the same card will be two other heavyweight bouts. Banny Miller and Joe Reinhardt clash in the six-round special event.

NELSON SHUTS OUT PORTLAND BEAVERS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1. (AP) The league-leading Mission Reds put another victory in the bag today when Merton Nelson held the Portland Ducks to eight hits and blanked the visitors, 5 to 0. Ten Sprinters Face Starter in Coliseum Event

Three Runners to Set Pace for Mile Athletes

Carter, Conger Out to Break Taber's Old Mark

men, and can navigate the three laps in well under 3m. 12s. Both Carter and Conger dislike to set pace, and the three extra runners were added to insure a fast three-quarters. However, none of them are required to drop out at the end of that time. If they wish to take their chances of finishing the final quarter against their better-known rivals, they are privileged to do so.

The pace-setters were entered in an attempt to aid Carter and Conger in their effort to smash the world's record. The outdoor mark of 4m. 12.6s., is still held by Norman Taber, the old collegiate star, established back in 1915 at Cambridge. Joie Ray and Paavo Nurmi jointly hold the indoor record of 4m. 12s.

Borah couldn't appear in the Coliseum yesterday afternoon as he had a patient in the dental clinic. However, he worked out at Bovard Field late in the afternoon, practicing starts. Wykoff admittedly has an edge on Borah in this department, although the Trojan captain got away to a perfect beginning when he ran 9.6s., against the L.A.A.C. in the Coliseum a few weeks ago.

Ten runners have entered the open 100, but this is expected to be cut down by withdrawals, so that heats will not be necessary. Borah will wear No. 22, according to Pinney, and will represent the Trojans. Wykoff dons No. 81, and the colors of Glendale Junior College. The other entrants are Nate George of Whittier, Milton Maurer of the Trojan varsity, Murray Schultz of the L.A.A.C. "Red" Guyer of Santa Ana J. C., Johnny Hill of U.C.L.A., Marzetta West of the prep All-Stars, "Bullet Joe" Treharne of the Pasadena J.C. and Bane of Long Beach J.C. There are eighteen entrants in the 220, but Wykoff and Borah probably will not be required to run heats, if it can be legally avoided.

There are two special events on the program, in addition to the Conger-Carter battle. One is the one-mile relay for high schools. Hollywood holds the world's record of 3m. 25.4s. for this event, and Hollywood, Jefferson, L. A. High and Fremont have been invited to enter teams in an attempt to shatter this mark.

There will be a half-mile relay for women, also with a world's record as the object.

Owen R. Bird, prominent in Southern California track and field circles for many years, has been selected as official starter for the meet. In this capacity, Bird will start the celebrated race between Wykoff and Borah in the 100-yard dash, and that between Conger and Carter in the special mile.

THREE TEN-ROUND BATTLES ARRANGED

The Orange Belt Athletic Club card will feature three eight-round main events at San Bernardino tonight. Charley Lupica and Frankie Arregon, a southpaw Mexican, who made himself known by holding Ignacio Fernandez to a ten-round draw, heads the bill. Trench King and Vernon Jackson, also big cards at the Gate City arena, are down for secondary feature. The opening eight rounder will be between welterweights. They are Sammy Aguirre and Clarence Dunivan.

PURDUE NINE BADLY BEATEN

CHICAGO, May 1. (AP)—Northwestern continued its role as giant killer today by virtually eliminating Purdue from the Big Ten baseball championship race with a 6-to-5 victory. It was the second straight defeat for Purdue.

ROCHE SLIGHT FAVORITE IN HOLLYWOOD FEATURE

The deck is cleared for action at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tomorrow night, and while Joe Roche is now ruling a favorite his opponent, Wesley Ketchel, with Clyde Hudkins in his corner, is expected to prove to be a tough nut to crack. Ketchel has had Roche on the floor in past bouts, and he is entering this fight with plenty of confidence.

Fred Winsor has been cracking about a fight for Roche with Ace Hudkins, and nothing would please the Hudkins family more than to see Ketchel save Ace the trouble of fighting Roche. The San Francisco Italian had a bad hand the last time he fought Homer Sheridan. He hurt it early in the fight, but his mittens are in shape for the Ketchel bout.

When Mickey Walker fought Jack Willis in San Francisco in February Roche worked out with Mickey Walker. After two days of it Kearns informed Fred Winsor that he didn't need Roche any more.

Offers have been received by Winsor from eastern promoters, but Windy is going to keep his fighter at Hollywood until he gets him ready to meet the top-notchers.

Club fighters are featured in the preliminaries. Freddie Fitzgerald is favored over Frankie Torndorf in the semi-wind-up, and Leonard Bennett is the choice over Tommy Smith in the special event.

East Vs. West at Puck Rink

East meets West tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, in the fifth and final professional ice hockey clash of the season, when Art Sumers leads his championship Vancouver Lions against the major and minor league All-Stars. And for the first time in the intersectional series the Canadians will face a squad that will be able to take care of themselves.

Vancouver won four straight games so far in the series, and officials of the circuit are pulling for the All-Stars to hand the invaders their first setback. The game will start promptly at 8:30 p.m. Here is the line-up:

TATE BUILDING SITE HITS SNAG

reat Additions to Cost of $490,000 Feared

ndemnation of Adjacent Edifice Holds Peril

cramento Officials Oppose Humphreys's Tract

dications that the proposed site r the new State office building tatively chosen by the Board of unty Supervisors at the northt corner of First and Hill streets ll cost the county far more than e $490,000 asked by the owner, W. Humphreys, developed yesterday, as deputies in the office of unty Counsel Mattoon began udying the legal problems inved.

A resolution of the Board of Supervisors directed the County Counl to prepare a condemnation suit property adjoining the Humeys plot, which is irregular, and e quadrangular in shape. To ke the site suitable for the State ilding it will be necessary to condemn part of the property now ocpied by the Tally-Ho Garage, ich is located in the Klinker ilding.

FEAR OF DAMAGES

Attorneys have pointed out that verance damages when part of a ece of property is condemned, rticularly if an entrance to a ilding is affected, well may ed in amount the entire value the property. That owners the Klinker Building will demand such damages cannot be ubted, according to legal authorities familiar with the situation.

Another obstacle to the acquisin of the Humphreys site is said be the problems involving the ndemnation of a strip of proprty on the north side of First reet, which will cut away part the Klinker Building. Damages, cluding severance, affecting this operty probably would exceed the lue of the building, and would ve to be paid by an assessment strict in which the county owns would own, considerable propty. If the county could not be assed its share of this improvement, the burden would fall with eater weight on adjacent property ners.

MUCH OPPOSITION

Finally, according to those who ve followed the activities of the pervisors in the matter, the attude of State officials has been rerded with some concern.

Alexander Herron, in charge of ate buildings, as chairman of the ate Board of Control, who inected various sites for the Govnor, declared flatly that the State nnot accept the Humphreys site. rron has been quoted as saying at if the county bought that und the State would be forced buy the Klinker Building with money available for the first g of the new State building, and e it for State offices until a furr sum becomes available from a nd issue or from some other appriation.

Mr. Herron stated further that is averse to placing the build outside the Civic Center, or ere it would disturb Civic Center ns already made.

EX-BANKER MUST GO TO SAN QUENTIN

Once President of Beach Institution Sentenced to Three-to-Thirty-Year Term

Young, former president of the National Bank of Hermosa Beach, yesterday was sentenced by Judge Wilson of Superior Court to serve from three to thirty years in San Quentin prison on five of sev- enteen counts of which he had been convicted in connection with an asserted scheme to give forged notes as collateral for loans.

Miss Leslie Smith, housekeeper for Young and his asserted accom- plice, who was convicted on five counts, was granted probation for a period of ten years.

The pair were charged with grand larceny and conspiracy, and, according to evidence adduced by the prosecution, obtained $5000 from the Marine Bank of Santa Monica on the asserted fraudulent notes.

In pronouncing sentence on the counts against Young, Judge Wilson suspended indefinitely sen- tence on the remaining two counts. Counsel for Young served notice

BOOKS BECOME SEA STORIES

Volumes Wanted for Lonely Mariners

Miss Offers Romances
Mary Conley contributes books to seamen's library.

ALTHOUGH California's sixth annual Seamen's Book Week is in progress, the public response has been exceedingly slim, all of which prompted Rev. Harold H. Kelley to send out an SOS yesterday. Mr. Kelley is head of the Seamen's Church Institute, a Community Chest agency at San Pedro, which distributes books donated by the public to men who "go down to the sea in ships."

The Seamen's Church Institute is the distributing agency in this connection for the California Library Association.

The churches, the Community Chest office in the Chamber of Commerce Building, and the County Library will receive books for another week.

"Don't send new books," says Mr. Kelley, "but books from your own shelves which you've already read and enjoyed, and which are now only of ornamental value to you."

At the Seamen's Church Institute the books are placed in boxes containing from forty to eighty books apiece, and put aboard various outgoing ships, throughout the year.

Two resolutions of interest were brought before the convention body yesterday to be discussed and acted upon today. The first one was an effort to look after the welfare of the child of a broken home by the appointment of a referee whose sole duty shall be investigation of both the homes of separated fathers and mothers to determine if possible which is the more desirable environment for the child.

"To promote composure, contentment and serenity of children," the resolution reads, "the court shall decide where the child of divorced parents is to live permanently and the court shall be guided by the advise of the referee."

ELECTION RETURNS TODAY

The second resolution if passed would make the P.-T.A. groups active in the campaign to preserve, plant and propagate trees of a semitropical nature and expressed regret at the frequent substitution of deciduous trees in Los Angeles for palms.

The district in convention yesterday represents 522,517 school children of the city and Mrs. Schaefer's annual report indicated that $60,000 had been contributed to child welfare by the organization in addition to 69,000 contributed by the Los Angeles Community Chest for the district.

Features of today's session include announcement of election returns, the presentation and installation of new officers, final reports, music by the Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School Glee Club and a group of songs by George Miller.

A delegation of the Boston Chamber of Commerce is due in Los Angeles this morning over the Santa Fe from Phoenix, and Charles A. Cooke, manager of the tourist department of the Chamber of Commerce, will act as personal escort from Colton. Mr. Cooke left last night for Colton to meet the delegation.

Bootleggers' Methods of Removing Competitors Described in Palombo Murder Trial

Methods employed in the bootlegging business to do away with competition were brought briefly to the attention of a jury yesterday in Judge Fricke's court, where Mike Pupillo, Dominic De Ciolla and Vito Ardito are on trial on a charge of murder growing out of the shooting July 19, 1928, of August Palombo, asserted liquor dealer.

The forcefulness of the methods was impressed on the court by Johnny Carra, a prosecution witness, who testified he once had been in the employ of Palombo.

Carra partially identified Ardito as the driver of an asserted armored automobile, which the State contends was used in the shooting of Palombo.

According to the witness a man resembling Ardito drove the car alongside his and told him to "get off the street or get bumped off." Palombo is said to have been shot down in the usual gangland fashion while he was parking his car in the 2200 block on Hillcrest avenue.

The trial proceeded slowly yesterday, with Dep. Dist.-Attys. Menzies and Clarke calling several Italians whose testimony was designed to throw some light on the activities of the defendants.

In view of the nature of the case, extra guards were thrown around the courtroom again yesterday and all State witnesses were under guard to prevent any possible demonstration on the part of friends of the defendants.

The trial will be resumed today.

NAVAL HERO OF BRITAIN VISITS HERE

Capt. Dobson, V.C., Victor Over Bolshevists' Fleet, on Good-Will Tour

One of Britain's naval heroes, Capt. C. C. Dobson, V.C., D.S.O., who, in 1919, defeated the entire Bolshevik fleet at Kronstadt with a flotilla of little coastal motor boats, paid his first visit yesterday to Southern California. Capt. Dobson now is commander of the British light cruiser Colombo, here for a ten-day visit of good will.

Capt. Dobson gained the coveted Victoria Cross for his service against the Russian Reds and during the World War rendered gallant service in the North Sea and the Baltic with destroyer flotillas, for which he was given the Distinguished Service Order.

His latest command, the Colombo, is a 4200-ton unit of the Carlisle-class of the British emergency war program. She has an armament of five six-inch guns, eight twenty-one-inch torpedo tubes, two anti-aircraft guns and other auxiliarses. She carries a complement of 394 officers and men. She leaves here on the 10th inst. for Esquimault, B. C., direct, later returning to her station at Bermuda as a unit of the British West Indian squadron.

Last Rites for Pioneer Lawyer to be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Wickliffe Matthews, pioneer attorney, will be conducted at Pierce Brothers' mortuary, 720 West Washington street, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. He died Tuesday night as the result of heart disease. He was 73 years of age.

Mr. Matthews had practiced law in Los Angeles from 1900 until the time of his death. He suffered a stroke of paralysis last year from which he apparently had recovered, and death came unexpectedly.

Besides his widow, Rose E. Matthews, he leaves two sons, Stanley and Wickliffe Matthews, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Matthews Truitt, all of Los Angeles.

Interment will be at Valhalla Memorial Park.

Montague Love 'Comes Cropper'

Montague Love, film actor, wasn't trying to emulate the Prince of Wales, but he fell off of a horse yesterday just the same and was painfully injured. He struck on his head and suffered a scalp laceration.

The accident occurred on the Providencia Ranch. Love was engage in a fox chase when his horse stumbled, throwing the rider on his head. His injury will not delay production.

GERMAN PRINCE FINDS FILM STUDIO VERBOTEN

A studio gateman came close to a Prince yesterday. Close enough, in fact, for the Prince to hear some strange specimens of the American language. But the gateman did not know who he was, and probably will be very much amazed when he reads his paper this morning.

The whole thing happened when Prince Louis Ferdinand of Germany, who is living in Los Angeles as Dr. Louis Ferdinand, decided that he would lunch with his lady fair, otherwise known as Miss Lily Damita. He climbed into his car at the aviation field where he is learning to fly, and journeyed confidently to the studio in which she is working.

Now, it seems, the Prince is known to certain gatemen at this studio. But yesterday a guard was at the portals who never had admitted the Prince. His name is C. C. Wyatt, according to reports. The royal visitor drove up, expecting the chain barrier to be lowered immediately. It was not. Instead, he encountered frowns, gesticulations, and commands to "get out" that were, to say the least, singular.

Thinking the man was, perhaps, playing a joke, he drove on. The gateman followed, and the Prince soon learned what the man meant when he said, "Get out!" Just then the noon whistle blew. Miss Damita came out and explained emphatically that the visitor was her "gentleman friend." Thereafter they went to lunch, Miss Damita declared, laughingly last night.

This was the way a gateman came close to Prince yesterday. Close enough, in fact . . .

ACTION LOST BY MAYNARD AND DE BESA

Former Peru Vice-Consul and Codefendant Must Pay $8323 for Stock Sales

L. S. DeBesa, former vice-consul of Peru, and H. C. Maynard, face a judgment of $8323 given in favor of the Pasadena Mercantile Finance Corporation by Superior Judge Stutsman yesterday after having his decision under submission since February 15, last, following the trial of a suit brought by the financing concern to recover commissions for the sale of stock in the corporation. Judgment also is returned against Malcom Crowe and Carl Rodecker, interpleaders in the action.

The company's complaint asked for $21,600. At a former trial of the case, held before Superior Judge Purchett in February, 1928, the company was given a judgment for $11,111.

The plaintiff company, represented by Attorney Walter M. Campbell, at the trial before Judge Stutsman, asserted that between October 29 1924, and October 28, 1925, the defendants, without the authority of the corporation, pretended to act as fiscal agents for the company in the sale of its stock and while acting as such sold $108,000 worth of the stock and accounted for $86,400, retaining for themselves a 20 per cent commission. The commission, it was asserted, amounted to $21,600.

It was further contended by the plaintiff that the defendants at the time the stock was sold were officers of the corporation and had no right to sell the stock. The defendants contended they had the right to sell the stock.

[Illustration on Picture Page]

Characterized as one of the most modern and efficient institutions of its kind, the Salvation Army Women's Home and Maternity Hospital at 2670 North Griffin avenue was dedicated formally yesterday afternoon. Several hundred persons gathered for the occasion.

The dedication ceremonies marked the completion of two wings added to the main building, costing $107,000, exclusive of furnishings, and providing accommodations for approximately sixty-five mothers and prospective mothers and forty babies.

Following inspection tours of the building, the ceremonies were conducted in the patio between the two wings, being opened by an introduction by Brig. James C. Bell and a prayer by Bishop W. B. Stevens. The dedicatory address was made by Commissioner Adam Gifford. Others making addresses included John R. Quinn, chairman of the building committee; J. Dabney Day, Dr. Miriam Van Waters, William Lacy and members of the Los Angeles advisory board.

Boeing Airport Survey Starts

Initial survey work and planning for construction of the Boeing Airport in the San Fernando Valley started yesterday, according to an announcement made by William Arthur, aeronautical chief of the Austin Company of America.

Hayes, assistant general manager of the Austin company, Lloyd St. John, prominent aviation developer, and a group of engineers, Arthur visited the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, where investigators were made as to the general layout and development of this port.

The group then chartered a large plane at the Metropolitan port and flew to the Boeing site, where plans were made for an immediate aerial survey to aid in the designing of the field layout.

Together with C. E. Johnson, manager of the Oakland division of the Boeing company, James P.

OWENS FILM PICTURES TO AID IN FETE

"Times" Artist's Sketches Will Go on Display for Stanford Celebration

Because they have been judged the most striking pictorial representation to date of talking pictures, sketches by Charles H. Owens which appeared recently in the Los Angeles Times Pre-View have been chosen for exhibition at the Stanford University memorial motion-picture event at Stanford on the 8th inst.

Approximately twenty-five drawings of Mr. Owens, each one dealing with some particular phase of motion-picture production, will be grouped together and forwarded to Stanford by the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences.

The sketches are the first piece of pictorial art to show in detail the workings of the sound equipment of the studios. Mr. Owens now is at work lettering and diagramming the individual sketches.

The motion-picture memorial event at Stanford commemorates the first successful photographic recording of men and animals in continuous action, and was the outcome of researches carried on under the direction and patronage of Leland Stanford on his Palo Alto farm a decade before the university was established.

The Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences is sending as a delegation to Stanford to take part in the exercises Louis B. Mayer, Cecil B. De Mille, William De Mille, Clara Beranger, John Considine, Jr., Louis Tolhurst, Conrad Nagel and Lester Cowan.

Woman Begins Battle on Will of Col. Wheeler

Mrs. Isobel Klein, secretary and business adviser of the late Col. E. G. Wheeler, whose $600,000 estate is in litigation, appeared in probate court yesterday, asking that one of Col. Wheeler's wills be set aside, and that she inherit $450,000 under the will which names her as one of his residuary legatees.

The will naming Mrs. Klein is dated August 28, 1926. In another will, dated March 1, 1927, Mrs. Corra H. Granger and Victor Rosetti, banker, are named as residuary legatees.

Mrs. Klein wants the last will set aside. With her attorney, George Acret, she is contesting this will, asserting that Col. Wheeler was incompetent when he made his last will.

RADIO-VIA-WIRE USE FORETOLD

Inventor Cites Possibilities as Educational Aid

Link With Television Also Declared Prospect

Revolutionary Changes in Teaching Predicted

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Wired radio, now in experimental operation at Freeport, Ill., eventually will be the medium by which the general public will receive educational courses, according to Gen. George O. Squier, formerly chief of the Signal Corps, and inventor of a wired wireless system, in speaking before the National Academy of Sciences.

Television also eventually will be offered by the same system, which utilizes telephone and power wires without interfering with their regular functions, according to the same radio authority.

CHOICE GIVEN

The present wired wireless makes possible a choice of three different programs, free from fading and static, supplementing the services which are received over the regular receiving set.

"The United States Bureau of Education reports that at the present time there are 25,000,000 children in American schools for which we are spending $2,000,000,000 a year to support. There are 4,000,000 pupils in public high schools alone, and more than 600 of these institutions have more than 1000 pupils each," said Gen. Squier. "This important element of our population still is waiting to be served by radio in a way never before possible.

CHAIN RADIO SCHOOL

"The best minds from our universities and colleges, and the departments at Washington, must be added to the teaching staff of our high schools through the development and perfecting of chain broadcast as a national educational function. This will result in the elimination of the waste of the present teaching staff duplication and reduce rather than increase the annual educational budget by dispensing with the inefficient teacher and raising the standard of th esmaller staff.

"This outstanding national service cannot be financed through public advertising to increase the sale of commodities, but must be paid for directly by the people, as it should be. The needs of new channels of communication require that ultimately both the telephone wires and the power wires into the home should be utilized in competition or co-operation.

HEARERS TO PAY

"The superuniversity of the United States for youth and adult can become in the era ahead the greatest educational and cultural institution in all history. Radio is the new agency by which this is possible."

Of course, one of the points to be observed in the wired wireless system, whether used for lectures or music, is that it will have to be paid for by those who derive benefit.

It is the only system at this time under which charges could be imposed and collected from listeners. "Eavesdropping" is not possible via wired wireless.

ARMY PILOT KILLED WHEN PLANE SPINS

Lieut. J. C. Banta, Victim of Texas Crash, Had Spent Most of Life Here

Lieut. John Craig Banta was killed yesterday when an army plane in which he was flying alone crashed at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Tex. Authorities at the field said the flyer was attempting to make a 180 deg. turn for a landing when his ship went into a spin at an altitude of 400 feet.

Lieut. Banta's father had been on the retired list until last March when he was notified by the War Department he had been recalled to active duty as the head of the recruiting service in New York City. Col. Banta plans to return to New York in June to resume his duties.

Funeral services for Lieut. Banta will be conducted at the Presidio in San Francisco where burial will take place Saturday.

M.-G.-M. STAR GOES COMEDIENNE

Skeets Gallagher Will Take Comedy Roles for Lasky; Constance Bennett Stars in "Thing Called Love;" Schildkraut Unhappy—May Leave Universal

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

It looks now as though Dorothy Sebastian were about to become that rare creature, a really clever screen comedienne. She registered vividly in Buster Keaton's comedy, "Spite Marriage," you know.

Miss Sebastian has just been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer on a long-term contract, and we hear that she may achieve stardom before this contract is finished. She wishes to play comedy roles, and we hear that M.-G.-M. is looking for stories for her along these lines.

Shortly after her graduation from the University of Alabama, Miss Sebastian, going from the sublime to the ridiculous, as you might say, landed in George White's "Scandals," from which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer took her for pictures.

POPULAR BROADWAY ACTOR WITH LASKY

That very clever young dancing comedian, star of many New York musical successes under the management of Charles Dillingham and other producers, Skeets Gallagher, has just signed a two-picture contract with Paramount, we learned yesterday. He will be featured.

"Pointed Hills" will be the name of the first picture in which Gallagher will have the featured role. This story, it is said, will afford him excellent comedy opportunity.

"Fast Company" is the name of the second picture in which the actor will appear. This is an adaptation of the comedy, "Elmer the Great," and will have musical features.

It was Skeets Gallagher's success in "Close Harmony" which won him the Paramount contract. The comedian lately came from New York to appear in the musical comedy features.

Constance Bennett's First Pathe

Because of various reasons, including some personal ones connected with her projected divorce from her millionaire husband, Philip Plant, Constance Bennett is to play her first Pathe picture in New York, but all the following ones in the West, we are assured.

CONSTANCE BENNETT

"This Thing Called Love," in which the vivacious Kay Hammond is scoring so heavily at the Hollywood Playhouse, will be Miss Bennett's first vehicle. It will be an all-talking picture.

Miss Bennett is the daughter of Richard Bennett. She was married a couple or three years ago, and declared she was leaving the screen forever. She changed her mind a few weeks ago in Paris, and signed with Pathe on a long-term contract.

Birdwell With Fox

Another newspaper man is making the grade in pictures. He is Russell Birdwell, whose two-reeler, "Street Corners," made literally on the street corners, and at a cost of exactly $500, has been attracting widespread attention of producers here, because of its inherently fine story quality, its treatment and the naturalness of its acting.

The young director yesterday signed a long-term contract to make pictures for Fox. After affixing his name, Birdwell went straight home and sat down to his typewriter to begin work on his first story.

The young director has had an interesting career in the writing field. He took many trips in the interests of news. He was scheduled to go on the ill-fated trans-Atlantic flying trip in which Phil Payne, noted newspaper man, lost his life about two years ago, but at the last moment was turned aside.

In "Street Corners" Birdwell uses a notable cast, including Henry Walthall, Joseph Swickard, Rex Lease, and others, all of whom gave their services gratis after they heard the story of the picture.

Charlie Chaplin, Sid Grauman and Charlie Christie were among those who saw the picture and pronounced it excellent.

Schildkraut May Leave U

Mysteriously upset and quite plainly indignant about something, Joseph Schildkraut declared yesterday that he may quit Universal, although he has just signed a new long-term contract.

JOSEPH SCHILDKRAUT

Yes, and everything was fine with Universal, too, he said — stories, directors, billing, everything just as he wished.

"Nevertheless," he declared yesterday, "the one thing I wish is that I was far, far away from here. No, no family trouble, oh, Lord, no, and Universal is most generous. They have just torn up my old contract and given me a wonderful new one. You'll probably know in a few days," the handsome actor remarked in darkly mysterious tone. And wouldn't say another word.

He was nattily dressed in white yachting flannels and cap, but wore besides these a dark frown on his brow.

It may all be just a fit of temperament or again it may be—but why speculate? Maybe by the time this is in cold type, Schildkraut will again be as cool as the type.

Oh, yes, he did drop another little word—"I'm homesick for Europe."

Claire Windsor Returns

That gallivanting young actress, Claire Windsor, is coming home tomorrow morning to the bosom of her family and to the films, we learned yesterday.

CLAIRE WINDSOR

Miss Windsor left here two months ago, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Fawcett, on a trip through the Panama Canal and to Havana and New York. She was called back by Tiffany-Stahl to complete her two-picture contract with them.

Zenith Sun No Use to Troupe on Waste Land

An interesting fact came to light during the location trip to the American desert made by the company for the filming of the Vitaphone operetta, "The Desert Song," now at Warner Brothers' Theater.

It was found that in the middle of the day, when the sun was directly overhead, no work could be done, as the desert could not be photographed to advantage. The direct rays of the sun entirely eliminated the shadows, and the wastelands photographed merely as a great expanse of flat sand.

Before 10:30 in the morning, and after 2:30 in the afternoon, the slanting rays of the sun threw the rolling sand dunes into bold relief, and the desert thus could be photographed in all its beauty. And so, although the location was established more than twenty miles from Yuma, Ariz., there was no necessity for "box lunches" which are customarily used in location trips. The entire company, with four hours for lunch, was transported by automobiles into Yuma for the mid-day meal, after which a siesta was enjoyed before the return trips to the desert were made.

Rugged Eastern Locale Serves Many Writers

The homely, rugged locale of New England, which has helped to make so pronounced a success of the comedy-drama, "Ned McCobb's Daughter," the New York Theater Guild Repertory company's offering this week at the Figueroa Playhouse, again emphasizes the fact that that section of the country has provided fundamental dramatic material for many of the most notable stage successes in American theatrical annals.

"Shore Acres," "Way Down East" and "Old John Springer," earlier successes, drew their characters from New England stock.

But while there is atmospheric relationship between "Ned McCobb's Daughter" and those plays, now almost forgotten, Howard has given his drama a very modern turn and a fresh crispness of contact. In offsetting the speech and manner of Maine with that of the East Side of New York, by opposing the ethics and moral standards of the frugal, stait-laced young woman of Maine and a brusk, rum-smuggling New Yorker, who chances to be her brother-in-law, the play is given vibrant strength, vitality and a universal appeal.

Golden's "Let Us be Gay" to Run at Mayan

John Golden's comedy, "Let Us Be Gay," which has been showing at the Little Theater in New York since late in February, is to be the next offering at the Mayan, starting the 10th inst.

A cast said to have been recruited in New York, headed by Edna Hibbard and Niles Welch, is now on its way here and will open the California showing in Santa Barbara on the evening of May 8. It plays there two nights before coming to Los Angeles.

"Let Us Be Gay" is from the pen of Rachel Crothers, and has been one of the most successful comedies of the spring in New York. It is reported that it has been a complete sell-out since the opening.

The Pacific Coast production is being staged and managed by Lester Bryant, husband of Edna Hibbard, star of the piece. Francine Larrimore has headed the New York production.

Philharmonic Sound Picture

Clarence Brown is using the entire Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra of seventy-six pieces for one of the most important sequences in his production of "Wonder of Women" at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. Henri Van Praag is conducting. The organization played several nights this week.

The scene is the interior of a Berlin concert hall. The orchestra is playing a symphony supposedly composed by Stephen Tromholt, the leading character of the story, played by Lewis Stone.

The symphony was composed by one of America's foremost composers, who has asked that his name be kept secret until "Wonder of Women" is shown to the public. It is said to be a masterpiece of modern symphonic treatment.

World Takes to O'Neill Drama

With the engagement of "Strange Interlude" at the Hollywood Music Box on Monday night, Eugene O'Neill will add another name to the rapidly mounting list of towns, cities and countries where "Strange Interlude" has been presented or is booked for presentation.

Germany, Russia and Sweden lead the continental list. New York, Buffalo, Washington, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Los Angeles, San Diego, Santa Barbara and now Hollywood are added to the American cities. "Strange Intelude" gives easy promise of outstripping the record of "Desire Under the Elms" in the number of cities and countries of presentation.

GUILD WILL ELECT

The Catholic Motion-Picture Guild will hold its election of officers for 1929-1930 on the 13th inst., at the monthly meeting which will be held at the Hollywood Columbus Club, 1441 North McCadden Place. This will be a closed meeting and only members of the guild will be admitted.

ON TELLING THE WORLD

Problems attendant on motion-picture and theater exploitation and advertising will be discussed tonight at a dinner meeting of the Hi-Hatters, associated theatrical press representatives of Los Angeles, at the Roof Garden Cafe. Harry Hammond Beall, chief Hi-Hatter, has just announced.

A Best Seller Becomes a Film

Don Alvarado and Lily Damita
Portray characters in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picturisation of Thornton Wilder's "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," opening today at Loew's State Theater.

"HOLE IN THE WALL" HERE

"Hole in the Wall," an all-talking production, opens at the Paramount today as the screen attraction for the week, with an all-novelty revue, "Just Kids," sharing feature honors on the stage.

"Hole in the Wall" is an adaptation of a stage play. The film was made at the Long Island studios of Paramount and all-eastern stage stars were utilized. The story is one of spiritualists, fake mediums and the manner in which belief in the communication of spirits was used by a gang of crooks to perpetrate a number of jewel robberies.

Edward G. Robinson, New York stage star, who will be remembered by local theatergoers for his work as Scarsi in the stage production of "The Racket," is featured in the film. Opposite him will be seen Claudette Colbert, one of the reigning favorites of the eastern stage at the present time. She is currently appearing in New York in "Tin Pan Alley." David Newell, Donald Meek and Barry McCollum have important supporting roles.

The Publix stage revue of the week, "Just Kids," presents Ad Carter, cartoonist, in person.

"Victor Herbert's Melodies" will be presented in an orchestral overture production, and Milton Charles will offer an organ solo.

A two-reel Paramount talking comedy, "The False Alarm Fire Company," and Paramount News will complete the program.

MARY DUGAN TRIAL NEARS

Norma Shearer's first talking picture, "The Trial of Mary Dugan," opens its engagement at the Fox Criterion Theater tomorrow night.

Every Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio star will be present—and in personal tribute to Miss Shearer on the occasion of her debut in talking pictures, nearly all of the stars from the other studios in the city will be on hand.

Fred Niblo will be master of ceremonies.

The talking-picture version stars Miss Shearer with Lewis Stone, H. B. Warner, Raymond Hackett and a cast of prominent featured players, including Olive Tell, Lilyan Tashman, Adrienne d'Ambricourt, De Witt Jennings, Wilfred North, Landers Stevens, Mary Dorne, Myra Hampton, Westcott Clarke, Charles Moore and Claude Allister.

Norma Shearer's brother, Douglas Shearer, personally had charge of the sound recording of "The Trial of Mary Dugan." Becky Gardiner is credited with the continuity, William Daniels as photographer, Blanche Sewell as film editor, Adrian with the gowns and Cedric Gibbons, art director.

Creatore will conduct the Fox Criterion orchestra in "Il Guarany," by Gomez, as his overture; and the program also will include "Mexicana," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking musical revue in "colortone" produced by Gus Edwards.

'Show Boat' to Open and Close on Same Night

On the same day that "Show Boat," converted into a film production by Universal, has its premiere in Los Angeles—at the Biltmore Theater, Monday evening—Florenz Ziegfeld's New York musical comedy version of Edna Ferber's "best seller," will close its engagement in the metropolis.

Helen Morgan, the star of Ziegfeld's production which has proved such a tremendous success on Broadway and which is next to be staged in Boston, is also featured in the prologue of Universal's Movietone version of "Show Boat," singing the melodies which have helped to make the former presentation so outstanding. Laura La Plante, as Magnolia, plays the part created by Miss Morgan in the musical comedy. Joseph Schildkraut is seen in the role of Gaylord Ravenal, the gambler-lover of the little show-boat actress.

'Night Hostess' Not Tex Guinan

The celebrated Texas Guinan, queen of night life in New York, is not the heroine or star of "Night Hostess," the hilarious melodrama that will be presented at the Belasco Theater for a short engagement beginning the 11th inst., it is declared by the management.

When "Night Hostess" was first presented in New York by John Golden, many thought that the life of the vivacious "Tex" was being immortalized, but one glimpse of the funny, fast-moving and exciting play disclosed the fact that the gay young lady was not even considered by the author.

Ken Murray to Enter Talkers

Further inroads into the ranks of vaudeville headliners by film producers is contained in the announcement that Ken Murray, headlining at the Hillstreet this week, has been signed by William Le Baron to portray the leading comedy role in the R.-K.-O. picture, "Companionate," starring Olive Borden.

Murray, with Helen and Milton Charleston, will be held over a second week at the Hillstreet, on the bill with Nick Lucas, the crooning troubadour, and Alice White's first talkie, "Hot Stuff."

Silver Fleet to Line Up Before Grauman House

Collegians piloting the automobiles of the Goodrich Silver Fleet, with attendants and officials of the company, will be personal guests of Sid Grauman at Saturday's midnight matinee of "The Broadway Melody" in Grauman's Chinese Theater when special tribute will be accorded Anita Page as guest of honor.

A section of 200 seats has been reserved for the delegation, headed by H. R. Schaeffer, which includes students from fifteen leading universities who are driving the flotilla of cars on their 35,000-mile nationwide tour.

Preparations are being made to line up the silver automobiles of fifteen different makes along the curbline opposite the Chinese, for the inspection of the throng expected to attend the midnight performance.

Y.W.C.A. Will Send Delegates

The Y.W.C.A. is inaugurating the beginning of its summer season, with all its attendant swimming and athletic events at the local club and its branches, by attending tonight's performance of "Coquette," at the United Artists Theater, in a body. Mary Pickford is dedicating this performance to the work of this organization.

All branches, including those from towns within a radius of twenty-five miles, will be represented in the large Y.W.C.A. delegation.

Show is Built Around Talkie

"Syncopation," moving into the Fox-Boulevard Theater today for a continuation of its first-run engagement, is presented for the first time in Los Angeles with a stage show created especially for the film.

Benny Rubin presides over the revue which rounds out the program. A twenty-piece augmented band is a special feature of the new stage show, and novelty chorus numbers by the Boulevard girls are featured.

INTO THE WEE SMA' HOURS

For those who like the bright lights and find that Saturday nights are convenient for tarrying away from home, the Orange Grove Theater announces a midnight matinee of "The Night Hawk."

LONDON FOG MASKS FANTASTIC DOINGS

"No. 17" Boasts Share of Spooks; Eddie Morris Gives Capital Performance at Pasadena

Not only pleasantly exciting, but genuinely funny is "No. 17," mystery piece, which holds the boards at the Pasadena Community Playhouse this week and next.

The action of this English melodrama hinges around fantastic happenings in an unoccupied house on a foggy, deserted crossroads of London. The house door plate bears simply the number 17, from which the author, J. Jefferson Farjeon, gained the title of the play.

Far-fetched, wildly hokumish as most mystery dramas are apt to be, this one contains a gem-like comic cockney character known as Ben and played by Eddie Morris.

Eddie steals the show right out from under the noses of the fairly capable cast of Pasadenans assembled for the production. Perhaps he should, for the role is almost actor-proof and besides that he is a tried and tested musical comedy trouper of long experience in England. At any rate, he gives a capital performance and one that makes the show pretty much of a hit.

On the occasion of the opening performance the first act was greeted by spasmodic choruses of hysterical shrieks and yells from those members of the audience who found their nerves not up to the strain imposed. In the final act, so much did the mood of the play change although the suspense was always kept up, that the shrieks were replaced by howls of laughter.

Settings by James Hyde added considerably to the effectiveness. The curtain rose to show the gaunt looking house, "No. 17," dimly outlined against the thick blackness of the fog. In a second scene, grotesque effects were obtained by moving shadows.

Ralph Urmy gives a creditable and clean-cut portrayal of the adventurous young Englishman who will insist upon sticking his nose into the mystery, while Eileen Wood does a nice romantic bit as a girl who decides to go straight.

'Salome' Given Interpretation at Play Shop

Oscar Wilde's "Salome," long a favorite with little theaters, is being given in an interesting manner at the Play Shop.

Much of the grewsome aspect of Oscar Wilde's lines has been made secondary in the beauty of the rendition of Joda Marinoff and George Fisher, who appear, respectively, in the roles of Salome and Herod. Fisher particularly impresses with the smoothness of his performance. The attention of the audience, inclined to wander in spots where the dialogue and action drag, snaps back to the plot instinctively when Herod has the center of the stage. The scene in which he describes his vast treasures, offering them to Salome in return for his promise, are the most effective of the evening.

Miss Marinoff, as the daughter of Herodius, played the earlier scenes with a reserve which made the latter sequences, with their accompanying spirit of abandon, stand out sharply.

Effective bits were contributed by Frances O'Connor as Herodias, Robert Seiter as the young Syrian captain, and Warren Hassel as the Cappadocian.

Francis Josef Hickson directed the production and artistic settings were contributed by Richard Earle, Peggy Jones and Zipporah Luleff.

"Up She Goes" Early Prospect

Nancy Welford, late New York star of "Twinkle, Twinkle," "No, No, Nanette," and other well-known musical comedies, now portraying the featured role in "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," which Roy Del Ruth is directing as an all-talking picture for Warner Brothers, will appear on the local stage in "Up She Goes," one of her greatest eastern successes, it is reported.

According to the story, Miss Welford has been the recipient of a telegram from William A. Brady, prominent New York producer, asking the petite dancer if she would star in this show on the Pacific Coast, following her film engagement at the Warner Brothers' studio.

Tenement Fire Lights Stage

An old-time melodrama without its thrills would be like a bottle of soda without its pop. However, "The Streets of New York," Edward Everett Horton's next Majestic Theater production, which opens Sunday, is blessed with more than the average share of climaxes. In the olden days of 1857, when the opus was originally staged, these tense moments would have had the audience standing in its seats.

One of the most exciting scenes is the great tenement-house fire. The flames of the firesare actually seen on the stage and several persons are carried from the burning building with their clothing enveloped in flames.

ATHEISM AND WESTLAKE

"The Godless Girl," Cecil B. De Mille's latest spectacle, and his first part-talkie, comes to the Westlake tomorrow night. The picture touches on a subject that has not heretofore been broached via the camera—atheism. Lina Basquette has the leading feminine role in "The Godless Girl" and the remainder of the cast is equally prominent, being composed of such screen favorites as Noah Beery, George Duryea and Eddie Quillan.

MICHIO ITO AT CLUB

Genevieve Gray, well-known for her impresario work with the Biltmore morning musicales during the past season, will present Michio Ito, Japanese dancer, with his troupe in a "Blossom Festival" to be given at the Norconian Club on Sunday at 3 o'clock. The affair is an invitational one, but members and guests can secure admission cards at the club by making advance reservations.

Mercolized Wax Keeps Skin Soft and Smooth

Skin dryness with its sequel of aging little lines and wrinkles can be avoided by daily using pure mercolized wax. The wax seeps into the pores, cleanses them, and lubricates the skin tissues. It keeps the face soft and smooth. It prevents the skin from becoming freckled, sallow, pimply, withered or parched. Try mercolized wax tonight and use regularly. It will keep your skin young. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. When the facial lines begin to lose youthful attractiveness, powdered saxolite dissolved in witch hazel will quickly restore the natural beauty. SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Coming as a great surprise to her guests was the announcement made yesterday afternoon by Miss Suzanne Stephens, at a beautifully appointed luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Donald Francis Dodge of Berkeley, of her engagement to Wesley La Fever, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles La Fever of Norton avenue.

Miss Stephens, who is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moye Wicks Stephens, entertained at her home on Kings Road and the guests were intimate friends of the young hostess, who was one of the debutantes of this season, her coming-out party being one of the brilliant events of the early fall, given at the Wilshire Country Club. She is the grand-daughter of Mrs. J. W. Hendrick, with whom she traveled for a year around the world.

Her paternal grandfather, Albert Miller Stephens, who for the past fifty-three years has practiced law in Los Angeles, is one of the most prominent citizens of Southern California.

Miss Stephens was graduated from Marlborough School, after which she went east, finishing her schooling at the Bennett School in Millbrook, N. Y.

No date is set as yet for the wedding, which, however, will be one of the brilliant events of August or September, the day to be set after the return of several of the bride-elect's intimate friends now traveling abroad, who will be in the wedding party.

May Day Party

One of the lovely affairs of yesterday was the May Day garden luncheon with which Mrs. John Gillespie Bullock entertained at her home in South Plymouth Boulevard, honoring Mrs. Griffith Ogden Ellis of Detroit, who is visiting in Southern California this spring.

Small tables were artistically arranged in the spacious gardens, with an immense buffet table in the center, the centerpiece being a tall May pole with ribbons of spring flowers in all the pastel shades. Dainty children in fluffy costumes entertained the guests with a charming May-pole dance. Mrs. Bullock received her guests in a blue French chiffon frock with garden hat to match, a corsage of orchids completing the cotsume.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Edward A. Dickson, Mrs. Joe Crail, Mrs. Charles S. Crail, Mrs. Raymond Huntsberger, Mrs. Alfred Dewey Davey, Miss Lois McQuistion, Miss Winifred Huntington and Miss Margaret Bullock, while sharing the honors of the afternoon with Mrs. Ellis were Miss Florence Taylor of London, Ont.; Mrs. James Curtis of Detroit, Mrs. Edgar H. Semple of Chicago, Mrs. Lewis J. Ollier and her attractive daughter, Miss Jerry Ollier of London, Eng.

The Maypole dance was given by Elizabeth Roberts, Stella Cohen, Yvonna Ehrgott, Roberta Grant, Betty Hull, Sophie Zafferis, Norma Serviss, Genevieve Huffine, Nancy Holm, Barbara Ramsey, Arline Mueller and Betty Warnack. One hundred and thirty guests were bidden.

Another May Day Party

Another attractive affair of yesterday was the luncheon given at the Biltmore by Mrs. Albert Griffith Bartlett, the table being covered with a silver metal cloth, while great May baskets filled with spring flowers in a riot of color centered the table, connected by garlands of pansies, small flowers and maidenhair fern fronds. Those included were Mmes. Fred Benniger, H. M. Binford, Strachen Barrett, Leslie C. Brand, Harriet Cole, Owen Humphrey Churchill, D. R. Collins, Joseph H. Chapman, Asa Call, Clyde Eastman, Samuel W. Goddard, John Henderson, Charles W. Hinchcliffe, Frank O. S. Harbeson, J. W. Hendrick, Abbie Norton Jamieson, John Matthews, Arthur W. Morlan, Alice J. Montgomery, W. A. Morgan, T. W. Moffitt, J. H. Pointer, Richard A. Perez, Frank Furnival Peard, J. W. Rhodes, A. J. Salisbury, Albert L. Sendall, Jacob M. Schneider, George P. Thresher, Martha Taggart, Frederick Beall West, R. B. Williamson and Edward Zobelein.

Smart Affair

Among the smart affairs of recent date was the dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Temple entertained in their apartments at the Belmont, 730 South Catalina street, honoring Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Morris of Dallas, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Getzeandanier of Waxahachie, Tex. The guests included former residents of the Lone Star State and covers were arranged for sixteen. Mr. and Mrs. Semple, who formerly made their home in Dallas, have come to the Southland to make their permanent home.

Returned Home

After several months' visit with her aunt Mrs. Finley Montgomery Hotchkiss at her home in Portland street, Miss Anna M. Hotchkiss left last week en route for her home in Edinburgh, Scotland. Miss Hotchkiss for the past two and a half years has been in China, making her headquarters in Peking and Shanghai, and while there did some very interesting painting. This was her second visit to China, but her first visit to Los Angeles, and while here she was much entertained, Mrs. Hotchkiss giving a delightful tea in her honor at the California Club. Miss Hotchkiss will stop for several days at the Grand Canyon and then go on to Nova Scotia for several weeks before returning to Montreal, where she will sail June 14 for home.

Luncheon Party

An attractive affair was given Wednesday afternoon at the Victor Hugo by Mrs. Lazard Lippman, the table being centered by American Beauty roses and ferns, the place cards carrying out the same motif, marking covers for Mrs. Lippman, Mrs. Standley Lewis, Mrs. B. B. Lippman, Mrs. Arthur Langan, Mrs. Harry Keeler, Mrs. John MacQuiddy, Mrs. Edward Hanny and Mrs. Harry Summers.

Spring Luncheon

The Fairview 400 Club gave a prettily appointed yellow and green luncheon at the Hollywood Plaza Pig'n Whistle Saturday afternoon, the huge round table being centered with bowls of yellow marigolds and the same tones carrying out the yellow color scheme in the place cards. Those included were Mmes. F. E. Rhodes, G. W. Kinalian, William F. Spalding, L. Z. McKean, R. S. Wilson, A. R. Butler, L. C. Cummings, H. A. Tinler, W. E. Burch, H. M. Clarke, R. W. Honoring Artist

As a courtesy to Giles Gilbert, pianist, who made his first Pasadena appearance before a large audience at the Pasadena Community Playhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Sellers gave an attractively appointed tea in the playhouse green room following the concert Sunday afternoon. Bowls of long-stemmed blossoms were used in decorating the room, as well as the tea table, where Mrs. Belle Barlow Bush and Mrs. Claude M. Griffeth presided over the tea and coffee urns.

Mrs. Page Morris, grandmother of Mr. Gilbert, received with the hosts and assisting were Mrs. H. A. Everett, Mrs. H. H. Sinclair, Mrs. Winthrop Rogers, Mrs. Gertrude Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Batchelder, Dr. and Mrs. Philip Schuyler Doane, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. McCullough and Claude M. Griffeth.

It took us 12 years of expert culturing to perfect this necessary new seed. But now you can enjoy in DEL MAIZ that delectable fresh corn flavor you have always wished for, and big tender kernels in a rich cream, containing no unpleasant tough particles—the specially bred, tall DEL MAIZ kernel permitting a deeper, cleaner cut without including portions of the cob.

If you could see how DEL MAIZ is grown, cultivated and packed—so different from other corn—you would understand why it is so exceptionally tender, why it is so uniform in quality. Change your colors, as your years are counted. That you could wear baby blue or rose pink, when a young girl, is far from proving that you can wear it now—becomingly. From season to season, sometimes from month to month, the complexion changes. The woman who cares, should realize this, should closely observe, trying other colors, other shades of color, from those she has been accustomed to wearing. "I never could wear yellows," remarks Milady; but perhaps it has become her most becoming tint. The skin changes, the hair takes on a different tone, suitable colors are far different than formerly.

Cocktail Spears

The daintiest little implements seen in years are those new cocktail spears. For impaling the cherry of the predinner cocktail, these tiny spears are intriguing. Topped, appropriately, by a crowing cock, either in silver, to match the prong that he adorns, or enameled in natural coloring, his roostership is cunning as a toy.

Facial Tissue Roller

Facial tissue—for cleansing away the cold cream—now comes on rollers, for all the world like those in old-time country kitchens! Conveniently, these rollers are so placed on stands as to remain firm during use.

Sandwich Pennants

A novelty certain to be appreciated, is that of pennants for naming sandwiches on the guest plates. Tiny flags, of composition, have apertures into which the name slip of the sandwich goes. These are set on pins or prongs to be inserted in the top sandwich of the pile. Thus guided, she who detests vegetables will not possess herself of one filled with them; while one who is on a meatless diet, need not be mistaken in the choice of the evening viand.

Her Ash Trays

Gladys is sadly addicted to smoking, and, always provident, she not only carries her cigarettes and matches in her handbag, but also an ash tray! "Sometimes," she explains, "one finds all the good smoking places occupied in the hotels and stores; one cannot find an ash tray not in use—so I bring out my own and am independent." The one she carries is infinitesimal, dainty and, as she avers, fully serves the purpose.

Rest for Baby

And, speaking of store conveniences—some of the leading stores and shops provide a bassinet for baby's rest. Softly cushioned, daintily pillowed, his little majesty may sleep while mother powders, freshens her complexion and—if she be so inclined, draws a few puffs, in addition to her powder one.

Dotted Swiss

In addition to other fabric revivals, this season is to see a rejuvenance of dotted Swiss. No material is quite so summery, so youthful, as dotted Swiss. And, the French couturiers seldom fail to incorporate this yardage in their plans for summer. On our side, we are inclined to use it less for dressy wear than for informal habiliments. At present, some of the leading shops and stores show charming garden and porch frocks, fashioned from white dotted Swiss, with pipings or bandings of color—green, red, blue, rose. Such frocks usually are plainly made, maintaining the straight, slim silhouette.

Will They?

Determined though the Parisian couturiers are to add length and more length to skirts, to bring into vogue—in short—the long, in both skirt and waist, I wonder if they will convert Americans? I do not believe we shall adopt this mode, except—perhaps—for evening. For many seasons past, the attempt has been renewed, to bring in longer skirts; but our own women have refused them. At least, for general wear; and I believe, and hope, they will continue so to do. A skirt no longer than just below the knee—a most becoming length—is most convenient and sensible, especial for day wear.

Help! Help!

And the short-skirt minded will have help from several sources. The makers of shoes, the manufacturers of hosiery—these will perform their part in maintaining the short skirt; for there is no question but that skirt brevity has brought about a demand for finer footwear. And, also, there is no doubt that the woman who cares, cares especially about these articles of the costume. And, since it has been conceded that women are vain—why possess fine shoes and stockings if they are to be concealed beneath overpowering skirtage?

Eponge Returns

Eponge—plain Turkish toweling, we were wont to call it—has returned to favor, after some time in abeyance. But—like all things modernized—it has come forth in a glorious weave and in coloring most striking. Especially in use for beach robes and capes to throw over the bathing suit, eponge of the present is a sort of apotheosis of that formerly popular. Particularly fascinating are the clear yellows and orange shades, in this thick, soft weave; and since sun-tan is the main object—this season—of beach lounging, how appropriate the colors.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

THE PATIENT'S HANDS

The fingernails may indicate nervous disorders by white spots under the fingernails, but this, and brittle and chalky nails, may also be caused by malnutrition. The doctor often examines hangnails to determine the patient's degree of resistance to infection. It is also possible to determine something of the condition of the blood by the color of the nails. For example, cyanosis gives a bluish tint, and anemia causes a bleaching. Of course, a doctor will not depend upon these symptoms for a real diagnosis, and he will always confirm or refute these indications by laboratory examination.

The fingertips are sometimes of diagnostic importance. Clubbed fingers or a great enlargement of the fingertips may be caused by a number of different diseases, but especially those which interfere with the action of the diaphragm.

Arthritis often makes its first indication in certain enlargements of the finger joints. Acromegalia produces an enlargement of all of the bones of the hands. Myxodemia may produce a puffy deeply groved hand. Raynaud's Disease frequently attacks the fingers, causing them to become white and cold, or, if the condition persists, even gangrenous.

The manner in which the patient shakes hands may give much valuable information concerning the patient's nervous temperament.

The patient may involuntarily twitch or hold the hands in certain positions which frequently play an important part in diagnosis of such diseases as alcoholic poisoning, drug poisoning, Gray's disease, multiple sclerosis, hysteria, paralysis agitans, Friedreich's ataxia, epilepsy, chorea, tetany and various professional cramps.

Much can be determined by the temperature and moisture of the hands. A hot, dry hand will always indicate an internal fever. A hot, moist hand usually indicates a severe toxic condition and is generally found where there is an excess of thyroid secretion. When the hand is cold and dry it simply indicates fatigue or exposure to cold. It may also indicate a disorder of the circulation or heart. When the hand is cold but moist the patient does not usually have heart trouble or other disturbances of the circulation, but this cold, moist hand is frequently found in those who are neurasthenic or have nervous disorders.

From these indications of what can be learned from the hands, you can readily see the importance of keen powers of observation to the physician. Not only is careful observation important to the physician, but it is undoubtedly important to everyone, regardless of occupation.

Life becomes more interesting when one becomes an observant spectator. There is an old saying: "Knowledge comes to him who searches."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Handball for Office Workers

Question: C. E. W. asks: "Do you recommend the game of handball for the office worker? If so, how often should it be played, and what other exercise do you suggest?"

Answer: Playing handball is a very good exercise for the office worker. Three forty-five-minute periods per week would be valuable. The different machines used in the gymnasiums are also to be recommended. However, a certain amount of calisthenic exercises should also be taken each day, in connection with walking, swimming etc.

Brown Spots

Q.: J. M. H. asks: "What would cause dark, rusty brown spots to form on my forehead? They have been forming within the last three years."

A.: The brown spots you refer to are often caused by billiousness, and if this is true in your case, the thing to do is to get rid of congestion in your liver and gall bladder. Send for the article called "A Cleansing Diet," which outlines a splendid regimen for you to follow.

Dried Beans

Q.: P. H. asks: "Are lima beans the best dried beans to use as food Or, which kind of dried beans would be the best to use in an emergency? Also, the best way to prepare dried beans as a food so they will retain their flavor and the vitamins. Will long or hard boiling injure their vitamins? Would simmering be the best way?"

A.: Any small dried beans may be used by those in good health. They should be cooked a long time by simmering or slow baking, where only a small amount of heat is used.

PROTESTS POSTPONED

The City Council yesterday postponed to the 9th inst., the hearing of protests against the ordinances of intention for the improvement of the streets in the Jordan-avenue and Devonshire-street and the Hemel-road and Alden-drive Improvement Districts.

CLUB NOTES

BY MYRA NYE

At the annual press luncheon of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs yesterday at district headquarters in Hobart Boulevard, a distinguished guest was honored. Mrs. Edna H. McCoy, a first cousin of President Hoover, represented the Elsinore Woman's Club of the southern district. Mrs. McCoy is a newspaper woman, and long has been prominent in the club life of her district which includes San Bernardino, San Diego and Riverside counties.

Mrs. Crete Cage, press chairman for the district, who was to have presided at the affair yesterday, was taken to the hospital seriously ill only a few hours before the luncheon. Good news of her physical well-being after a major operation telephoned to headquarters during the luncheon, relieved the anxiety of nearly a hundred of her close friends who are members of her department.

In Mrs. Cage's absence Mrs. Donald D. Jennings presided and awarded the prizes for meritorious work during the year. Judges in the contests were well-known newspaper men of the city. None of the contestants was a professional newspaper woman.

For the best spot news story, Mrs. Lou Love of Burbank, received first prize; personal feature, Mrs. Scott E. Gleeter, Monrovia; human interest story, Mrs. Merton Albee, Redondo Beach; society story, Mrs. William C. Rowse, South Pasadena; sports, Mrs. Alice Kingsley, Pacific Palisades, and for the greatest number of inches for a club inside of the city, the West Adams Club, sixty members with 416 inches, press chairman, Mrs. C. E. Baldwin; outside the city, Netunia Club, sixty-one members, 866 inches of space, Mrs. Maud C. Withers, press chairman.

Mrs. J. Hokom, chairman of the radio department, co-operating with the press department, introduced her sister, Mrs. J. L. Hunter, who sang charmingly a group of river songs including: "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" and "The Old Bayou."

Club editors of the city were guests of honor and spoke briefly.

May Party

Anticipated as the Pomona Ebell Club's most important social event of the season is the May party to be given tomorrow afternoon in the clubhouse for the benefit of the club's pledge of $1000 toward the Pomona Valley Community Hospital. Mrs. Elsbery Reynolds, club president, will preside as hostess.

In charge of arrangements are the three home economics sections, the curators of which, Mrs. Ross Wright, Mrs. Ward L. Fisher and Mrs. Roy Day, are assisting the general chairman, Mrs. Bert Harvey. Mrs. W. S. Hufford is in charge of prizes, Mrs. Edwin Rhodes of Kensington and Miss Mae Gibson of the tickets.

Both bridge and 500 will be played, while reservations also are being made for Kensington, and a musical program and other games will be provided.

The event is open to all women of the community, and already more than fifty tables and as many single reservations have been listed.

Club Anthology

An unusual feature of the annual literature tea of the Women's University Club, to take place Saturday afternoon, will be the initial appearance of the Club Anthology, a collection of verses written by members. Proceeds from the sale of the volume will go to the support of the library.

The library committee, of which Mrs. Malbone W. Graham is chairman, will be hostesses at the affair, with contributors to the anthology as honored guests.

Mrs. Mary Hunter Austin, lecturer, poetess, playwright and author of books on California and the Southwest, will speak at 3:30 p.m. on "The American Rhythm." Mrs. Austin is head of the department of aboriginal literature in the school of American Research at Santa Fe, N. M., and has done much toward interpreting and preserving Indian lore.

Friday Morning Club

Dramatic interpretations and readings in costume will be presented by Gwendolyn Logan Seiler tomorrow at the morning meeting of the Friday Morning Club.

Miss Seiler is a graduate of the Ben Greet School of Acting in London, and began her professional career under the direction of Sir Forbes-Robertson, with whom she played for several seasons. She afterward appeared with such artists as Mrs. Patrick Campbell, George Arliss and Granville Barker, and has conducted special classes in diction at the Chicago Woman's Club for the officials of the Federation of Women's Clubs in Illinois.

Request Performance

By popular demand the operetta, "In Old Lousiana," will be repeated tomorrow evening by the music section for members of the Wednesday Morning Club. Miss Shirley Bailey enacts the leading role.

Candidates for Mayor of Los Angeles also will be on the platform that evening.

Public Meeting

The Women's Political League will meet at noon today in the Windsor Tea Rooms, Brack-Shops, with Col. Thomas S. Cooke, candidate for City Council; Frank E. Carlten and Wilbur E. Curtis, candidates for Municipal Court; and Arthur E. Eckman, representing candidates for the Board of Education sponsored by the Citizens' Committee, as speakers. The meeting is open to the public.

Picnic Plans

Plans for a June picnic, as a conclusion to the season's work, will be made at the Tenth District Child Study Conference of the Parent-Teachers' Association, to be conducted in Room 355, Chamber of Commerce Building, at 11:30 tomorrow morning. Mrs. P. M. King, chairman, will preside, and a review of the girls' council recently held here will be given.

Mrs. Wright is a past president of the club.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

TOOTH AND BONE-MAKING MATERIALS IN AVERAGE DIET

Prospective and nursing mothers are told that their diets must contain tooth and bone-making material, so that their own teeth will not decay, for Nature is zealous that the child may not be deprived. In many instances the mother hasn't the faintest idea in what foods the awe-sounding calcium and phosphorus may be found. She knows that calcium is lime and she jumps to the natural conclusion that she must have lime water, or baby must have it, as a means of supplying his system with this necessary mineral.

The mineral elements are in all the common foods. We can get iron in iron pills and iron tonics, but we can get an even better supply and one more appetizing and readily used by the body in eggs, raisins and spinach and other foods rich in iron. The same is just as true of the lime and calcium. There is more lime in a quart of cow's milk than in the same amount of lime water, and one is gobbled up by the body, as it were, and turned into good bones and strong teeth, while a large part of the other merely acts as an antiacid.

EASIEST TO LEARN WHY

In thinking over her menu for the months of pregnancy and later during the lactation period, the mother need not tear her hair worrying about lime or calcium. She must know what constitutes a good diet at this time, and if she will just glance at the following classifications, she will understand without argument just why she is told to drink a quart of milk or use other milk products each day, just why she is told that she should eat whole-grained cereals or breads made of them, and why it is absolutely necessary that she eat several different vegetables and fruits each day not only for their nourishing powers, but for their roughage and their mineral content.

WHAT DIET SHOULD CONTAIN

Not only are lime and phosphorus found most abundantly in milk and such milk products as cheese and buttermilk, but in meat, fish, shellfish, eggs, oatmeal, chocolate, molasses and graham flours.

Moving on to the vegetable family we find in beans of all kinds, peas (dried, fresh or canned,) carrots, spinach, turnip tops, pumpkins, rutabagas, water cress, celery and parsnips the mineral content.

Among the fruits, figs stand highest on the list in their supply of these particular minerals, and blackberries, raspberries, currants, dates, strawberries, oranges, peaches and raisins also have an appreciable supply.

Just the ordinary good diet which is stressed constantly as being most essential during this period will contain all of these foods, so that getting one's supply of calcium and phosphorus and thus furnishing the fetus or the nursing baby with an adequate supply is simplicity itself.

Face Peel Basis of Damage Suit

A facial peel which, according to her complaint, did not bring the results that were expected, yesterday resulted in the filing of a suit for $50,370 damages against Dr. Josef Ginsburg by Audy V. McCormack.

Prior to the peel, the plaintiff asserts, her face was normal except for a few pits resulting from chicken pox, but she declares it now is scarred and disfigured as an aftermath of the operation. Attorney George Acret filed the suit.

ASSAULT CASE MOTIVE MISSING

Hermosa Police Unable to Solve Mystery

Victim Does Not Remember Anything

Real Estate Man Still in Serious Condition

HERMOSA BEACH, May 1.—Despite a twenty-four-hour investigation police officers today were unable to arrive at any motive for the murderous attack upon Fred A. Ripley, local real-estate operator who was beaten into unconsciousness in his office yesterday afternoon at the hands of two unidentified assailants.

Ripley, who is in a serious condition at the Hermosa-Redondo Hospital recovered complete consciousness for the first time this morning and told police that he was unable to tell of what had happened to him. Despite the fact that neighbors heard his screams, Ripley insists that he did not see or hear his attackers and remembers nothing of what occurred.

F. Marlowe, operator of an open-front market across the street from Ripley's real-estate office, and F. A. Andrews, who called at the police station to give the alarm, leaving without identifying himself to the officers, were questioned by the officers late last night and were able to give a vague description of the men who made the attack.

Andrews, who is a delivery-truck driver, told police that he was called to the real-estate office by Ripley's screams and that as he entered the smaller of the men turned upon him and driving him from the office at the point of his revolver, ordered him to leave "or you will get what this fellow got."

The men each carried a slug shot Andrews said, and the smaller held a gun over Ripley while the other administered the beating, police believe. Andrews said that he drove to the police station as soon as the men drove away in their car, a new black sedan in which a woman was seated.

Marlowe's account of the attack differed from that of Andrews, in that he believed that the person at the wheel of the car was a man. He rushed into the street, he said, but seeing the men drive Andrews from the office with a gun, came back into his place of business without interfering.

Ripley was able to tell the police this morning of the visit of two men to his home some time ago in search of a Mr. Ripley, declaring that he was not the person that they were seeking. He was under the impression at the time that the men carried a feeling of ill will toward the man they were seeking, he said, and has advanced the theory that the attack yesterday was one of mistaken identity. A son, Lyle D. Ripley, Los Angeles real-estate operator, was on his way here from a fishing trip at Big Bear this afternoon and will assist the police in ascertaining whether or not his father may have had any enemies. Ripley, who was badly injured about the face and head, will recover, his physicians said.

Gate at Border to Remain in Old Location

SAN DIEGO, May 1.—The government gate at the border will remain in its present location, it is indicated.

Interested parties reached an agreement at a conference recently to sign a contract whereby the government will be given land at the present gate on which to erect buildings provided for by the $105,000 Congressional appropriation.

Necessary rights of way for a [illegible]-foot road from the border to the junction of the two paved roads below San Yaidro will be given the county, under terms of the proposed contract.

A tentative memorandum of agreement was made by Miguel Gonzales, lessee of property at the border, and Mrs. Henrietta Lane Clark, representing the Lane estate, owners of property which would be deeded to the government; Fred Sutherland, owner of border property; F. I. Bickel and A. Caplin of San Yaidro and E. A. Hornbeck, County Supervisor.

Gift to the government of a piece of land extending 200 feet along the border between the present road and the railroad station is provided for in the agreement. Buildings of the International Commercial Company, headed by Gonzales, occupy a part of this land, which extends back about 300 feet from the border.

Gonzales will move his buildings to a point north of the land designated for the government buildings, according to tentative arrangements.

CHURCH BROTHERHOOD STARTS NEW CRUSADE

OXNARD, May 1.—With idea of abolishing slot machines and other such devices from pool halls and other places in Ventura county a committee was appointed last night by the Oxnard Federated Church Brotherhood to confer with Dist.-Atty. James Hollighsworth. Those named on the committee are C. R. Keller, J. E. Osborne and J. W. Shillington. Action followed a series of meetings and speechmaking in regard to the subject. It is also a result of encouragement from the Los Angeles brotherhood, it was stated today.

Slot machines are permitted in Ventura county. To date no public objection has been raised against them. According to a prominent local attorney one type of slot machine is absolutely legal and it is doubtful whether anything can be done against this particular machine.

NO MONKEY SCHOOL VACATION

"Roughneck" Gets Intensive Training

Lessons in Acting
Chimpanzee being instructed in art of appearing before camera.

CULVER CITY, May 1.—School children may look forward to Saturday and Sunday as days away from their books, but "Roughneck," an African chimpanzee, residing at the Los Angeles Monkey Farms, on Washington Boulevard, just east of here, enjoys no such vacations.

Under the tutelage of Herman Ziegler, considered among the world's foremost animal trainers, "Roughneck" is receiving an intensive and thorough education, preparatory to his debut at an early date in the films. Seven days a week Ziegler works with "Roughneck."

This training is not so irksome to "Roughneck," however, as "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic" are to some school youngsters. He thoroughly enjoys his daily routine, and seems to revel in the applause of spectators as he takes his lesson on skates, his few minutes on the bicycle, or his session on the tight rope.

"Roughneck," who is but three years old, shows promise of becoming one of the smartest chimpanzees in captivity, according to Ziegler, who reports that the two months he has spent with the "chimp" have witnessed marvels in his development.

Native Sons to Dedicate Park

CHATSWORTH, May 1.—Dedication of a park containing several of the ancient lime kilns used by the Spanish padres during the building of San Fernando Mission is scheduled for the 15th inst., according to plans of members of Cahuenga Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West. They will stage a barbecue and fiesta in the evening at Lakeside Park, at the western end of the Chatsworth water reservoir, where the old landmarks are situated.

The local organization of Native Sons has a membership of about sixty, but the register shows that there are approximately 900 men living in San Fernando Valley who were born in this State. The barbecue and fiesta will be staged as a special event to entertain native sons of California who have not affiliated with the local parlor. Preparations will be made to entertain several hundred of these guests from every town in the valley, Leslie Hadley, president of the organization, has announced.

R. L. Glover, owner of several hundred acres at Lakeside Park, has offered to deed the historic lime kilns to Cahuenga Parlor as a permanent park and landmark, and as a part of the ceremonies, officers of the parlor will erect a permanent tablet to mark the lime kilns. The park will be landscaped and beautified as a rustic picnic spot, according to plans outlined.

The lime kilns are located in a grove of oaks just off the proposed Valley Circle Boulevard, and the park as planned will have an entrance from the new highway. The kilns are in an excellent state of preservation.

ACCIDENT INJURIES MAY PROVE FATAL

ANAHEIM, May 1.—Mrs. Ida May Bruce, 33 years of age, resident of 318 East Center street, this city, is in the oLs Angeles General Hospital today suffering injuries which attendant physicians declare, may prove fatal. Mrs. Bruce was injured yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which she was riding near the Leffingwell ranch, east of Whittier, struck a truck.

The injured woman was found to have suffered a severed jugular vein and serious cuts and abrasions about the head. She was removed from the scene of the accident to the Whittier Memorial Hospital, from where she later was taken to the Los Angeles institution.

Riding in the car with Mrs. Bruce were Y. N. Bradford and M. F. Moore of La Habra, who were not seriously injured, Constable R. B. Way of Whittier reported.

CAN'T VOTE FOR PARK UNTIL THEY REGISTER

RESEDA, May 1.—All residents of Reseda who have not registered within the last two years or who have moved into other precincts since the last election, must register again between today and the 4th inst. if they desire to vote on the Reseda Park project, it is pointed out by those fostering the improvement. A registration official for the next four days will be stationed at the Reseda Chamber of Commerce.

Season's First Fire in Forest Hits 400 Acres

SAN BERNARDINO, May 1. (AP) Southern California's first forest fire of this season, which this afternoon was reported out after sweeping nearly 400 acres of brush in Day Canyon, tonight still was being battled by a force of 125 men.

A hot dry wind, which had carried the blaze rapidly up both walls of the canyon, rose again late in the afternoon, demanding fresh efforts of firefighters to confine the flames to the burned area. Predictions were made that it would be entirely out by morning, the wind having died out this evening.

The strong wind also was blamed for the start of the fire, fanning into vicious blazes smoldering embers where a firebreak had been newly burned over as a protective measure. For a time it threatened to shoot westward into timberlands of the San Bernardino National Forest, but reports were made tonight that only brush lands had been swept.

Town in Valley Wants Hospital

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, May 1.—It is highly probable now that North Hollywood is soon to have its own police emergency hospital, similar to the one located at Van Nuys, on the west. More than 600 residents have petitioned the City Council asking for the establishment of the hospital to meet the demand from emergency cases and traffic accidents.

The petition is in the hands of the Council, which, in turn, will bring it before the health department for approval. In connection with the establishment of the hospital, it also is requested that a police ambulance be stationed here to answer hurry calls.

Under the present policy, the nearest ambulance is at the police station in Van Nuys.

VENTURANS ASKED TO INSPECT RESERVOIR

VENTURA, May 1.—Friday is the day when Venturans have been invited to descend into the new storage reservoir on the hill above Chestnut street and inspect it before the final coat of whitewash is given the bowl and the water is run into it for the city's test before releasing Carpenter Brothers, the contractors. After 10 a.m. the public is invited to go down into the reservoir to be satisfied that the work is without flaws and without cracks before water is turned into it. WE BUILT for a lady a home, within one year she sold it; we constructed for her another home, which she sold within a year. In five years we built four houses for her, all of which she sold at a profit of about $15,000. We furnished all the money for the buildings. The lady only bought the lots.

You can always afford to make payments on a home, as payments are about what your rent would be. When you sell at a profit, build you another as this lady did.

Plus high-class and efficient lady solicitors and large part-time organization. Plus a new sales business-getting plan, the first time in the city, but operated successfully by Mel Anderson over a period of years, and has been instrumental in producing millions of dollars in lot sales. SALESLADIES
ATTENTION

SALARY, COMMISSION OR STRICTLY COMMISSION

My experience with salesladies within an organization has been most successful. As a frank confession, in several of my past connections, women have been my most successful producers.

This is a woman's age—no denying that fact. They are accomplishing big things in every line of endeavor.

Realizing this fact, I am just forming an organization for the opening of a new addition in an environment that will be appealing to you. Located in the heart of Hollywood, and has the requirements that are necessary to sell property today.

In this new scheme of things, I have an unusually good proposition to submit to a few industrious and ambitious women, who possess ability, and can meet people of means, from names that will be provided you.

Attractive sales offices have been equipped that will be separate and distinct from the balance of the organization.

A three-way plan is open for your consideration. Liberal salary, commission or strictly commission basis.

Positions available for five high-class women as direct salesladies.

Positions for ten high-class ladies in Business Contact Department. Salary and commission.

Ladies organization will function under a limited closed organizational policy.

Drive direct to the property sales office at

HOLLYWOODLAND
2600 NORTH BEACHWOOD DRIVE.
OR
PHONE HOllywood 1344
for an appointment and detailed directions to reach property.

An interview will be granted by asking for Mel Anderson, General Sales Manager of Hollywoodland or Mr. Chas. Everson, Sales Director.

Magnificent Estate

The very finest I have ever had the privilege to offer for sale in the 24 years I have been in the real estate profession. Located on absolutely the choicest knoll in all Beverly Hills, as to view and surrounding estates, it has no equal in Southern California. Its interior appointments are excellent and its exterior contains all the requirements becoming to an estate of this character, such as formal gardens, swimming pool, tennis courts, etc. A conservative valuation of this palatial estate would be approximately $500,000, but we have been fortunate in obtaining a very great reduction in price owing to very unusual circumstances. Principals who can qualify for an estate of this nature may inspect same by calling David Haney. OX. 1143.

Organization's Main Purpose Set Forth in Interview

Dry Enforcement Declared Only Secondary Duty

REAR ADMIRAL BILLARD

Rear-Admiral Frederick C. Billard, commandant of the United States Coast Guard, wants every American citizen to know that the raison d'etre of the seagoing service which he heads is to aid shipping in distress, to save lives and property at sea, and that the Coast Guard is not engaged in the enforcement of national prohibition. Admiral Billard making a survey of the entire Pacific Coast, yesterday paid Los Angeles Harbor his first visit to inspect the fleet and personnel of Section Base Seventeen.

"The Coast Guard resents the common belief that it is first engaged in prohibition enforcement," he declared. "The service, established in 1790, is older than the United States Navy, and its primary function then was, as it is today, assistance to shipping and lifesaving along the coast. A secondary duty even in 1790 was the prevention of smuggling of forbidden articles, just as we now seek to prevent smuggling of liquor since the Volstead Act made it contraband.

"It is true that the Coast Guard has had to increase its fleet and personnel 250 per cent to fight liquor smuggling—so that we now have 29 cutters, 10,800 enlisted men and 400 officers—but every man is ready first to aid shipping in distress, save lives and property and help the merchant marine in any way. As proof of this, we saved 3000 lives in 1928 and preserved property to the value of $15,000,000."

Admiral Billard is on his first trip to Southern California since 1899, when he was serving aboard the Coast Guard cutter Corwin. He declared himself as "tremendously impressed by the growth of Southern California which has been stupendous."

"I am so impressed by the growth of shipping out here that the first thing the Coast Guard will do next is to increase its seagoing and coast lifesaving forces on the Pacific. In that connection, a lifesaving station is badly needed at Point Arguello."

Admiral Billard was accompanied yesterday by Mrs. Billard and Capt. D. P. A. De Otte, commanding the Pacific division of the Coast Guard, and while at the local port was the guest of Commander R. C. Weightman, head of the Coast Guard activities in Southern California. The visitor will inspect the establishment at San Diego today and then will return to Los Angeles for a short vacation before going back to Washington.

POLICE SHOW GAIN IN WAR ON CRIMINAL

Statistics Indicate Law Forces Reduce Losses by Burglary and Robbery

Crime statistics yesterday made public by the police department bureau of public relations at Police Chief Davis's order show reductions in the average monthly loss from burglary, robbery and pocketpicking. As the department's fiscal year ends June 1, the nine months ending April 30 are taken as a basis of comparison in each of the five years, as follows:

Burglary—1929, $85,244; 1928, $121,912; 1927, $120,734; 1926, $137,-956; 1925, $113,740.

Robbery—1929, $32,423; 1928, $47,-279; 1927, $35,429; 1926, $72,756; 1925, $35,748.

Pocketpicking—1929, $1673; 1928, $3400; 1927, $6191; 1926, $5852; 1925, $4290.

Chief Davis states this is quite a reduction in the average loss, especially when the growth of population and territory to be policed is considered. He asserted that burglary insurance rates should be lowered as a result.

Capt. Weyerman, in charge of the police vice division, yesterday reported to Chief Davis on the work of the squads at the principal divisions for the month of April, as follows: Total arrests, Central, 906; Newton street, 223; Georgia street, 116; Hollywood, 66; Wilshire, 28. Convictions, 772; dismissals, 38; cases pending, 774. Capt. Weyerman stressed the fact that seventy-five officers of the division spent a total of 1422 hours of their own time in court during April.

ORANGE TREES TO BE LIGHTED IN PARADE

One hundred members of Al Malaikah Shrine Temple will carry illuminated orange trees in the $1,000,000 motion-picture electrical pageant in the Coliseum during the Shrine convention here June 4, 5 and 6.

The Shrine members, in full dress, also will carry numerous other electrical novelties in the night oriental parade to take place on Wednesday night, June 5, it was stated by Frank Murphy, in charge of the electrical effects in the pageant.

Both the pageant and the parade will be part of the seven events to take place in the Coliseum during the convention, which includes also a day oriental parade and four Circus Maximus performances. Season tickets are on sale at the B. H. Dyas stores, Seventh and Olive streets, and Hollywood Boulevard at Vine street.

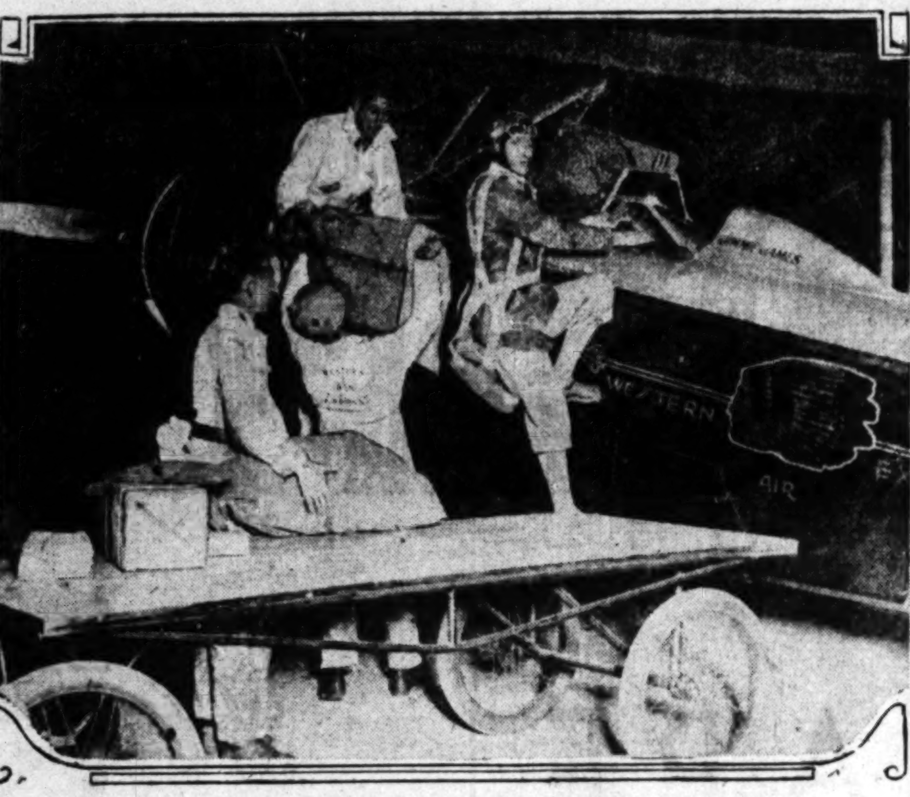
Rites Today for County Worker

Funeral rites for Mrs. Frances Russell Vance, supervisor of industrial extension for the handicapped in the county department of charities, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the chapel of Turner, Stevens & Berry in South Pasadena. Burial will be at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mrs. Vance, who was 58 years of age, had been an employee of the county ever since she came here eleven years ago from San Antonio, Tex. Before coming here she was a teacher of arts and crafts in the public schools of Texas. She was a member of the County Employees' Association, the American Legion Auxiliary, the Artland Club and the Typographical Auxiliary. Her home was at 601 El Centro avenue, South Pasadena.

She leaves her husband, M. C. Vance, a son Louis and a brother, John R. Russell.

Night Flyer Essays to Bring Oceans Closer



Loading Mail for First Night Flight; Pilot Jimmie James Climbing Into Cockpit

SUN-DODGER AIR MAIL OFF

First Night-Flying Transcontinental Plane Roars East, Inaugurating Service

The first east-bound night air-mail plane of the new coast-to-coast service roared away for the East last night from Vail Field at 7 o'clock with Jimmie James, veteran pilot of Western Air Express, at the stick. New Yorkers are scheduled to receive letters contained in the 591-pound load of mail tomorrow morning, thus saving a complete business day over the daylight air-mail run.

Today at 5:30 a.m. the first plane load of mail on the westbound trip is expected to arrive at the Western Air Express terminal at Vail Field.

Several officials of the local postoffice were on hand at the local airdrome last night to witness the take-off of James's new Boeing mail plane. These included J. P. Bourne, assistant postmaster; Julias Janssen, superintendent of mails, and S. R. Simpson, assistant superintendent of mails.

POWERFUL NEW PLANES

Four new Boeings have been purchased by Western Air Express to rush the mail through the night on the 600-mile Los Angeles-to-Salt Lake City leg of the national air-mail hook-up. The ships are capable of 150 miles an hour and have a cruising speed of 125 miles an hour. Each plane is powered with a Pratt & Whitney motor of 525 horsepower and carries the latest equipment for night flying.

James was selected to take the stick on the first flight because of his high-efficiency record made on the Salt Lake-Los Angeles hop since Western Air Express obtained the mail contract between the two cities. He was one of the first pilots hired by the local air line.

NO PASSENGERS

No passengers can be carried on the night run, as the fuselage of the ships contains only room for the pilot's cockpit and the mail department. They are capable of carrying 1610 pounds of mail.

If the night planes stick to schedule the mail which left here at 7 p.m. yesterday arrived at Salt Lake at 1:45 a.m. today, left at 4 a.m. and will arrive in Chicago at 6 o'clock tonight. Two hours later it is scheduled to leave for New York and arrive there at 6:45 a.m. tomorrow, early enough for delivery on the second day after the local take-off.

Postoffice officials state that air-mail letters and packages received in the local Arcade station by 6 p.m. will make the daily 7 p.m. take-off.

BAY CITY PLANE IN SCHEDULED START

OAKLAND, May 1. (Exclusive)—The new night transcontinental air-mail service cutting the distance between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts by one business day was inaugurated tonight when Ray Little took a Boeing plane off the ground at Oakland municipal airport promptly at 8 a.m. and headed east. Little's cargo will be in New York City at 6:45 a.m. Friday, in time for delivery in the morning, together with mail from Los Angeles and other Southern California points carried to Salt Lake City by the Western Air Express and there transferred to the Boeing line.

Little drew the honor of taking the first night transcontinental aloft in recognition of the fact that he piloted the first mail plane to leave the San Francisco Bay District eastbound in 1920.

KEYES TO SEEK BAIL TODAY

Application for Release from Jail Because of Illness Will be Heard by Judge Shaw

Application of former Dist.-Atty. Keyes for release on bail from the County Jail on account of illness will be heard today at 3:30 p.m. before Superior Judge Shaw.

Notice of the move to obtain Keyes's freedom for hospital treatment, pending a decision of the higher courts on his appeal from a conviction on bribery conspiracy charges, was made yesterday by Attorney Schenck to Judge Shaw.

Judge Shaw then appointed Dr. Francis L. Anton and Dr. Edward M. Pallette to make a complete physical examination of Keyes, who is confined in the jail hospital, and make a report of their findings for his consideration in passing on the bail action. The physicians will have the report ready for the hearing today, they announced.

FITTS ACQUIESCES

Dist.-Atty. Fitts said the two physicians named by Judge Shaw are among the ablest in Los Angeles and that their report will be satisfactory to his office, and their decision will be considered as a true state of the condition of the former county official.

Keyes was removed from his cell to the hospital ward of the jail last Wednesday when he developed a severe cold and was seized with coughing spells. His condition, according to Dr. Benjamin Blank, County Jail physician, never has been considered serious, although the cold has not improved as rapidly as might be expected.

"NEAR BREAKDOWN"

"Keyes has no real particular physical disability," Blank said, "but I believe that he is suffering from a near nervous breakdown, brought about by his mental attitude and determined effort to withstand the severe shock of his confinement, and to present an outward appearance of fortitude. He has held up wonderfully well, but I believe that he is developing a stomach ailment caused from an inner weakness that he is stoically attempting to hide.

Two family physicians have made visits to Keyes's bed, according to Dr. Blank, and have reported that they believe the prisoner to be suffering from a kidney trouble.

PARK GETS COURTS

On recommendation of its Finance Committee, the City Council yesterday appropriated $4000 for the purpose of building tennis courts in Exposition Park. Councilman Davis, whose efforts obtained the appropriation, said he understood the $4000 will be sufficient to build two courts, but he added that it is his intention to persuade the Council to furnish funds for the construction of ten more courts.

ROCK PLANT WOULD MAR SCENIC SPOT

Company's Witness Tells Commission Hearing Plan to Cut Scar in Mountains

A topographical scar 213 acres in extent will mar the Santa Monica Mountains near one of the city's finest residential sections and in one of the city's most scenic areas, it was shown at the City Planning Commission's session last night over the Mountain Park Company's proposal to establish part of a cement manufactory there.

Arthur F. Miller, consulting engineer for the company, testified that the quarry alone would cover that amount of ground and that hilltops would be removed in the operations. He testified further that hillsides in the area would be dotted with rock-crushing plants, storage buildings, huge tanks and other buildings. He was testifying on cross-examination. The entire area set aside for all operations in Santa Monica Mountains is 495 acres, he said.

The quarry scar, it came out, would be from 1020 to 1300 feet above the sea level and the buildings would be up about 940 feet. Blasting of enormous quantities of earth would take place about four times a year, he said.

Miller testified that 265,500 gallons of city water a day would be required to operate the plant and that if objection to use of this were encountered sea water could be used.

The witness would put no value on the land to be used but said that whatever value is there would be lowered about $1,500,000 by the time its cement-making materials were exhausted. He said the company intends to lease the ground to the cement-operating company for shares of the latter's common stock.

The commission held but one session, an evening one, yesterday. Further sessions will take place next Tuesday afternoon and evening and on the evening of the following day.

LUTHERANS' SYNOD HEAD RE-ELECTED

Church Group in Session Here Given Report on Expansion in Southwest

Dr. Edward P. Schueler, pastor of Santa Barbara Lutheran Church, was re-elected president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of California at the annual election conducted by that organization yesterday at Hollywood Lutheran Church. Other officers elected are: Rev. R. H. Tropan of First Lutheran Church at Fresno, secretary; W. B. Scheehl of Berkeley, treasurer; Rev. J. E. Hoick, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Los Angeles, statistician; Rev. John R. Broyer, First Lutheran Church at San Francisco, historian; Rev. R. H. Trojan, chaplain.

The annual report of President Schueler showed considerable progress in the Synod within the last year, new churches having been dedicated at Long Beach and Dnuba and Phoenix, Ariz. A survey of possible mission openings has been made and steps are being taken to develop a Lutheran congregation in West Los Angeles.

An appeal by Rev. G. H. Hillerman, Western District Superintendent of Missions, for generous donations to foreign missions, addresses by Miss Mary Mellander and Edward Spirer and a banquet for men featured Synodical sessions yesterday. Sessions will be held toady and tomorrow morning and speakers will include Dr. J. A. Morehead, director of the Lutheran World Convention, Grant Hultberg, manager of the United Lutheran Publishing House at Philadelphia, Miss Ellen Schuss, missionary to India, Miss Margaret Bingham, missionary to the American Indians, and Dr. John Weidley, official representative of the United Lutheran Church in America.

said, in the person of Mrs. May Lorraine Kimball Wiseman-Sielaff, the enigma woman of the McPherson mystery. She was introduced to the newspapers through Roland Rich Woolley, then the evangelist's attorney; then voluble descriptions of the Carmel incident; then more affidavits from the "Miss X," who never appeared on the scene.

But the "Miss X" story didn't stand up. Two inquisitive Times reporters exposed Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff as a fraud, so the District Attorney, then Asa Keyes, issued complaints charging obstruction of justice. They were followed by the longest preliminary hearing in the history of the county before Municipal Judge Blake, after which he bound the two women over to Superior Court for trial.

In the meantime, Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff, who had made a confession after her expose and said many things about the Temple heads, again capitulated, and changed her story so many times that Keyes said he couldn't prosecute, which resulted in the dismissal of charges against the evangelist and her mother. Then came Mrs. McPherson's nation-wide "vindication" tour.

Several minor skirmishes followed which threatened to revive the case but they proved only tempests in a teapot. Later Mrs. McPherson and her mother came to a parting of the ways over the management of Angelus Temple.

It was during a telegraphic bombardment between the two women that Mrs. Kennedy reached down in a paper file she had with her in Kelso, Wash., where she was conducting religious revival, and handed a reporter a photostatic copy of the famous $2500 love offering check to Judge Hardy, which proved to supply the theme for what now appears to have been the final act in the dramatic McPherson mystery.

Mrs. McPherson says she is satisfied. Three years in the limelight are enough for her, she states. Her story, she adds, is as true as the day she told it and as it never could be shaken officials might as well have stopped troubling her long ago.

Now with Dist.-Atty. Fitts's statement of the closing of the mystery, Angelus Temple is expected to supply the epilogue to the story with one of its jubilees.

Tourist Killed by Street Car

Carl Beckmann, 71-year-old tourist from Rock Island, Ill., was injured fatally yesterday when he was struck by a Pacific Electric car at Second and Hill streets, according to police reports. Witnesses stated he failed to heed traffic signals and walked in front of the car. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with a fractured skull, and later removed to the California Hospital, where he died. The body is at the County Morgue, where an inquest will be conducted today.

The dead man had been living at the Belmont Apartments, Third and Hill streets. He is said to have a daughter, Mrs. George Zeisler, living in Rock Island.

POLITICS
THE WATCHMAN
Trend of Political Thought and Action
—BY THE SENTRY ON HIS BEAT—

Almost on the eve of one of the most important primary elections in the history of Los Angeles it becomes apparent that many of those taking active interest in the current municipal campaign are neglecting, in their close attention to the mayoralty candidates, the merits and demerits of the scores of aspirants for such offices as the City Council, the municipal bench, the Board of Education and City Attorney.

Declaring there is little variance in the attitudes of the mayoralty candidates on the major issues of the campaign, George W. Perkins, Los Angeles attorney, in a statement indorsing Perry H. Greer, emphasized the point that the "question before the voters of Los Angeles is purely one of selecting the man of the strongest personal qualifications and the greatest freedom from political cliques."

A series of Colden mass meetings is being organized by the officers of the Affiliated Improvement Association, covering every section of the city of Los Angeles. This will be the association's contribution to the mayoralty campaign of Councilman Colden. The dates, locations and speakers for these meetings are being arranged.

At a mass meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday in the amphitheater of Mission Gardens Carlin G. Smith, business man and candidate for Mayor, will be guest of honor, it was announced yesterday by Jay Wellington who will be in charge. The meeting will feature a musical program under the skies with solos and selections by the San Pedro Civic Concert Orchestra.

Nick Harris, candidate for Mayor, carried his campaign into Spring street yesterday when he opened branch headquarters. Until next Tuesday the candidate will be guest of the American Art Company, 747 South Spring street. Programs will be given daily from 11:30 to 2 o'clock by radio favorites and other entertainers who are friends of the candidate. Tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock Harris will speak from KMTR. Sunday at 1:30 p.m. he returns to KFI, his home station, and at 7:30 he will broadcast from KELW. Monday night, he will speak over KFI again at 7:30, and then go direct to KGFH, where he will broadcast his final program of the campaign from 9 to 10.

Luther A. Heilig, head of the Luther Heilig Detective Association, has indorsed John C. Porter, the grand jury candidate for Mayor. Mr. Heilig says: "If the men, women and children are to be safe in the city of Los Angeles elect John C. Porter Mayor next Tuesday."

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Bonelli, were guests of honor yesterday of the women's division of the Bonelli-for-Mayor Committee, at a luncheon at the Elite. Mrs. Oda Faulconer, attorney, was chairman of the day.

Mrs. Faulconer pointed to Bonelli as best equipped of all candidates for the office, because of his experience, ability and knowledge of the science of government.

The candidate, in his talk, told of police conditions, the responsibility of the present police administration. He said that only a few officers are derelict, and that a reorganization will bring about better conditions for the great majority of the force.

A. D. Van Vranken, president of the Real Estate Foundation of Southern California, announced yesterday that this organization has indorsed Wilbur C. Curtis, candidate for judge of the Municipal Court, Office No. 10.

Former State Senator Harry A. Chamberlin has indorsed for reelection all insumbent judges of the Municipal Court, according to Mrs. election all incumbent judges of the Angeles Bar Association judiciary campaign headquarters. Senator Chamberlin said:

"The highest standards of administration in our municipal courts are essential and the responsibility of selecting judges to fill these places on the bench must be met next Tuesday. Five of the offices are uncontested.

"The remaining five now are occupied by men who have had long experience in judicial matters, expert legal training, and each has made an enviable record in the discharge of his official duties. I can see no logical reason for displacing any one of them.

"The expense of training judges is enormous. The unnecessary removal from office of public officials whose service has been completely satisfactory makes for inefficiency in government and adds to the tax bill.

"The vote of the Bar Association is based on qualifications alone and is made solely to meet the duty of good government which peculiarly rests upon it because of its professional character. I approve heartily of its efforts to obtain the best available material for judicial office and I shall vote for all incumbent Municipal Court judges."

Numerous indorsements of the candidacy of Judge Charles L. Bogue for re-election to the Municipal Court, Office No. 9, have been received from prominent organizations and individuals, the Bogue campaign headquarters announced yesterday.

Speaking before a large audience at a political mass meeting at the Wadsworth school, Frank E. Carleton, candidate for Office No. 2 of the Municipal Court, spoke on the importance of the Small Claims Court.

Indorsements from prominent women have been coming into the headquarters of John S. Myers, candidate for the office of City Controller. Among these may be mentioned Mrs. J. C. Warren, property owner, and treasurer of the Y.W. C.A.; Mrs. Mary Penman Moll, one of the largest property owners in Hollywood and woman member of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Lyman Farwell, civic worked and club woman; Mrs. Henry T. Wright, past-president of the Hollywood Women's Club; Past Regent of the D.A.R., chairman of the Veterans' Relief for Los Angeles, District of California Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Roy Arnold, curator of music at the Ebell Club, and Mrs. Horatio Coggswell, prominent in club and musical circles.

The candidacy of John A. Westrom for Council in the Sixth District met with a decided impetus last night at a meeting of a large group of property owners of that section of the city, according to his headquarters.

Mr. Westrom is a student of land economics and understands the problems to be dealt with. His business and civic activities have familiarized him thoroughly with practical needs of the city. His candidacy is sponsored by hundreds of men and women who, through personal knowledge, appreciate his sterling character and marked ability.

From the headquarters of Donald M. Keith, deputy City Attorney and candidate for City Attorney, comes announcement that the Eighth District Taxpayers' League officially has indorsed Keith's candidacy.

Frank A. Rozier, veteran real estate man of the Fifth District, joined the ranks of the S. De Vier Ely-for-Council supporters yesterday.

"In my opinion," Rozier said, "Ely is the best man in the field. He is a veteran, a retired manufacturer, graduate of two universities, and he has the indorsement of the majority of progressive business men in the district. He has pledged himself to protect our homes from the invasion of industry, and he has shown by his successful private life that he is the type of man who can get things done. We have had enough of broken promises and postponements of this and that."

Declaring that Peirson Hall is "what a good City Attorney should be, a fearless, outspoken advocate of the people's rights and interests," W. B. Mathews, former City Attorney, a member of the California Colorado River Commission and a leader in the fight for the Boulder Dam project, yesterday issued a statement indorsing Councilman Hall's candidacy for that position in the Tuesday primary.

With campaign committees in all sections of the district, campaign activities for Joseph Oberwise, Fifth District Councilmanic candidate, now are at their height, it was reported from the candidate's campaign headquarters yesterday.

Douglas E. Foster's candidacy in the Twelfth District Councilmanic race yesterday was indorsed by George W. Dickinson & Son, realty dealers, it was announced from the Councilman's campaign headquarters.

"The efficient manner in which you handled the Glendale Boulevard, Silver Lake Boulevard and Park avenue improvements, and your act to prevent the small property owner from carrying the burden of excessive water rates to pay for the recent St. Francis Dam disaster, is sufficient to convince us of your executive ability," the letter of indorsement states.

A letter enthusiastically indorsing the candidacy of Councilman Howard W. Davis for re-election to the Council in the Seventh District was received yesterday from the Polish American Society of Los Angeles, W. J. Miller, president, at Davis's campaign headquarters.

Candidacy of Lester R. Rice-Wray for the Council from the Eleventh District was indorsed heartily in a letter from Mrs. Mae DeLano, president of the West Adams Woman's Club, received yesterday at Rice-Wray's campaign headquarters.

City employees who are delegates to the State convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War at San Bernardino on the 9th to 11th inst. inclusive, will be given the three days off with pay as a result of a resolution sponsored by Councilman E. Snapper Ingram and passed by City Council. Approximately forty employees will attend the convention.

Candidates for Council from the Fourteenth District, judges of the Municipal Court, City Attorney, Comptroller, and for member of the Board of Education, will address the meeting under the auspices of the West Highland Park Improvement Association tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Aldama school, Avenue 50, near Aldama street.

A TELEGRAM

Sir: Fire Commissioner William N. Wenning in a mass meeting speech yesterday stated "the Twelfth District has been hit hardest by special and overlapping assessments. When I am elected Councilman of this district I pledge myself to fight consistently until this evil is satisfactorily corrected." Wenning is making a strong race and will undoubtedly be placed in the primaries next Tuesday.

EARTHQUAKE RATE SLASH WAY SHOWN

Building Owners Given Advice on Reduction of Insurance Charges

Owners of Class A buildings in Los Angeles may save approximately $400,000 a year in reduced earthquake insurance rates through proper presentations to underwriters of the earthquake resistance qualities of their structures, W. M. Butts, civil engineer, declared yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Los Angeles Building Owners' and Managers' Association in the Clark Hotel.

The association is sponsor for a movement to urge building owners to conduct surveys of their structures with a view of reducing earthquake insurance rates. Mr. Butts yesterday made his first report to the organization on the result of his initial survey here that of the Security Title Insurance Building owned by J. C. Bliss, in which the rates were reduced from 70 cents to 21 cents.

"The Security Title Insurance Building would pass through an earthquake of three times the intensity described by the underwriters without damage," Mr. Clark declared. "The subfoundations of Los Angeles are better than under other cities of California. In other words two earthquakes of the same intensity, one here and the other in San Francisco would shake several times harder there than here yet the insurance rates of the two cities are the same. Los Angeles also has the best building code and the best enforcement of it of any city on the Coast."

A. L. Lathrop, president of the organization, declared that all owners of buildings had the same opportunity for obtaining reduced earthquake insurance rates as the case cited and that the services of Mr. Butts is available to members of the association. J. C. Bliss was chairman of the meeting.

MAYOR AND AIDE TRY TO FIX BUDGET

Paring $8,000,000 from Requests of Departments Must be Accomplished

With June 1 as the deadline for the submission of the results of their labors to the City Council, Mayor Cryer and Director Knox of the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency set to work yesterday preparing the general city budget for the fiscal year beginning on July 1. From estimates already available, they are confronted with the task of paring approximately $8,000,000 from the requests which have been submitted by the various departments.

The departmental requests total $34,304,606. Although final figures on the estimated income of the city during the next fiscal year have not yet been determined, it is believed that it will not be more than $26,-000,000 and therefore the requests will have to be cut down to come within this figure.

From now on the Mayor and the Budget Director will hold daily conferences with the heads of the various departments in order to obtain their co-operation in revising their requests.

Hosiery "Run" Worry to End

No longer need milady discard her expensive hosiery just because it develops a "run." For, beginning next Monday, she has only to take the damaged stocking to one of eleven Knitback machines that will be placed in operation on that day and see it flawlessly mended.

Announcement that the machines are being installed was made yesterday by William H. Leavin, who, with his brother, S. P. Leavin, invented the device. They worked six years to perfect it, Leavin declares, but their labors are being rewarded, for the machines have been placed in almost every large department-store in the larger cities of the East. Los Angeles is the first city west of Chicago to receive them.

The operation requires only a few minutes, the inventor states, and the resulting mend is practically invisible. The machines will be available at the following stores: Broadway Department Store, Bullock's, May Company, Jacoby Brothers, Blackstone's, B. H. Dyas, Weatherby-Kayser, I. Magnin, Arcade Smart Shop, Knit-a-Run Company and Walker's, Inc.

ESCAPE

YOU, a fugitive? You do not think of yourself as such. But look into the mirror of your life . . . doesn't it show you in full flight—from noise? A fugitive, seeking escape?

You have pushed your offices up, up, to the topmost floors of a towering sky-scraper—fleeing from the clangor of the streets below. You have moved your home higher and higher to a penthouse atop a lofty building—fleeing from the din of traffic. And when even this house-in-the-clouds proved noisy, you have fled to the country, and there, on a sequestered by-road, have built yourself a home. Fifteen, thirty, sixty miles is not too great a distance to commute if only it can bring you evenings of quiet.

To ease your nerves in business hours, you have muffled the clack of typewriters; you have put thick rugs on the floors, and surrounded yourself with sound-proof walls. To get the maximum quiet out of vacation days, you have purchased a yacht and sought the silence of the sea.

Your home, your yacht, your office—these are your harbors of silence. But between them stretches a maelstrom of noise—noise you plough through twice each day—unnecessarily. For you can join your home and office with a bridge of silence — Rolls-Royce.

This car was built primarily to furnish man an escape from the nerve-jarring noise of this clamorous age. Rolls-Royce is as quiet as your country home. It has less vibration than your yacht. Rolls-Royce comes closer to absolute silence than any other car you've ever ridden in!

And we mean just that! Rolls-Royce has not stopped at eliminating the obvious rattles that all cars war against. It has destroyed sounds you never consciously hear!—those tremulous quavers and whispers that, through constant repetition, fray your nerves, leave you tired at the end of a long trip. A Rolls-Royce motor is quiet! You can scarcely hear it at 60 miles an hour or faster. Think what this means to you, a business man! —in calmer nerves—in dollars-and-cents efficiency! . . . . .

To leave your office after a wearying day — to step into your Rolls-Royce and loll back against the cushions. Traffic screams around you — but you rest in cathedral quiet. Smooth pavements end, rough roads begin — but Rolls-Royce never tells you so. You ride relaxed, cradled in floating ease. And this ease lasts as long as you ride. You can ride for hours, for hundreds of miles, without fatigue!

So important today is this boon of quiet, this escape from noise, that even if Rolls-Royce offered nothing more, it would be worth its cost to you on this score alone.

But Rolls-Royce does offer more — so much more!

It offers you a driving thrill you will never believe possible until you take the wheel of a Rolls-Royce. And then! . . . Though you try every driving trick, you can't ruffle the car's nonchalance. You steer around curves with only the lightest touch on the wheel. You take level boulevards and rutty hills with the same effortless stride. You open the throttle— you're not even conscious of speed at 60 miles an hour. At 70 there's never a murmur from the motor, scarcely a tremor from the wheels. And when you want to stop, you stop— almost instantly, yet without the slightest jar.

Rolls-Royce offers, too, super-safety. It is the safest car in the world! It offers freedom from mechanical ills. It offers a gilt-edge investment unequalled in the fine car field!

All these things Rolls-Royce offers, but the greatest of them — we repeat it — is the opportunity for peace and quiet that this car brings to you. With life the strident, noisy thing it is, no business executive who can possibly afford the first cost of Rolls-Royce can possibly afford to be without it! . . . . its comfort . . . . its restfulness . . . . the solace of its silence . . . .

No matter where you live, Rolls-Royce will gladly send a car to you for a 100-mile trial. Or perhaps you would rather see a representative first—or secure printed matter giving more detailed information on Rolls-Royce. Make your request—we will fulfill it.
